SECRET MONEY SESSION IN LONDON

BRITISH OFFICIALS MEET TO DEVISE PLAN TO END TROUBLES IN EXCHANGE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, conferred with leading bankers, political leaders and others this afternoon over the situation that has arisen from the adverse rate of exchange. The greatest secrecy was maintained in connection with the proceedings, a report of which is being prepared for presentation to the Cabinet. Premier Lloyd George, Andrew Bonar Law and Sir Auckland Geddes attended. The cable transfer rate on New York today fell to $3.33 on continued large demand for dollars. Paris and Brussels exchange likewise moved adversely to 47 francs 80 centimes per pound.

An official report of the financial conference issued tonight shows that Chancellor Chamberlain convened the conference to discuss the recent memorial of bankers and others to the Premier in favor of calling an international finance conference.

The memorialists explained that the memorials had not been prepared with special reference to the exchange situation, but was the outcome of a series of conferences held at Amsterdam a month ago with a view to finding remedies for the economic collapse in many parts of Europe. In further explanation they urged the imperative need of European countries to bring their expenditures within the compass of their revenue as the first condition of obtaining assistance through public or private channels and pointed out that, once this was accomplished, private credits would immediately become available.

The fact that this is the first occasion the labor leaders have been called into consultation with the government on questions of high finance has attracted considerable comment. It is appreciated that the miners are seeking their aid in the project of stimulating the workers to increased production, the belief being that the United States is clamoring for British goods, especially textiles, a surplus of which could be exported to offset the adverse trade balance.

DECLINE MAKES RECORD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Another sensational slump in foreign exchange today unsettled prices on the Stock Exchange and the various commodity markets, especially those trading in foodstuffs and cotton.

The decline was the most severe in the long-sustained reaction of international credits and was attended by many disquieting rumors.

There is no way by which the extent of today's operations in the exchange market can be computed, but the aggregate of sales probably amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars, British and French bills providing the bulk of offerings.

Today's reversal, which established new low records for London, Paris, Rome, Antwerp and many less important centers, also took in one or more of the British dominions. As an instance of the movement's ramification, exchange on New York at Montreal was quoted at a premium of 12⅛ cents, or one cent over the previous high rate.

The reverse side of the exchange situation was presented by a withdrawal of about $17,000,000 gold from the subtreasury for shipment to South America, which continues to be favored by trade conditions.

Bankers in close touch with conditions in London and Paris acknowledged that the exchange situation had taken on more ominous aspects, but in no high quarter was any immediate readjustment regarded as probable.

At the lowest rate before the close of the market, the British pound was quoted at $3.33, against a parity of $4.86⅔, or a discount of almost 32 per cent.

French and Belgian francs and Italian liras all quoted at the one price of 5.16¼ to the American dollar before the war, today fell to new low levels at 14.44, 14.80 and 37.82, respectively, to the dollar.

MAY CURTAIL EXPORTS.

In the first half-hour sterling declined to $3.36¼. Franc checks opened at the rate of 14.02 to the American dollar and lire checks at the rate of 16.52, both new low records.

London rates rallied feebly at noon, but French and Italian exchange held at lowest levels.

Leading exporters said that if banks generally decided to discontinue discounting dollar drafts against exports, such action would call for a readjustment of present methods of export business.

It might mean, one exporter said, that exporters might be restricted to doing business on a cash-in-advance basis. It was said also that such an order would result in a material decrease in exports for a short time.

Exchange on Argentina is now quoted at 1.0220 Argentine gold pesos for one American dollar as against par of 1.0364 pesos.

AFFECTS CHICAGO MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. — Collapse of foreign exchange, although at first treated with apparent indifference today in the corn pit, became afterward an evident source of depression. Oats, like corn, gave way in the end, despite initial strength.

ONLY LEAGUE OF NATIONS CAN AVERT BALKAN WAR.

Moral Support of America is Vital in Preventing a Conflagration Involving Four Nations.

BY ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT.
[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NOVI-SAD (Serbia) Dec. 24.—Here in the New Balkans everyone is preparing for the next war. It may not take place, because there is a long arm that can still reach out from Paris even if treaties are not ratified and deposited. But, without a functioning League of Nations, that long arm is not as effective as it might be. When the Balkans really begin to rise it will take more of a sure-enough League of Nations to hold them.

By using the term, "New Balkans," I mean to include most of the old Austro-Hungarian empire, and to leave out, now that I think of it, a large portion of the old Balkans. The New Balkans, or, rather, the uneasy seat of war we have long been in the habit of associating with the Balkan Peninsula, has since the war shifted north. It runs now from Serbia to Slovakia, from the Carpathians to the Dalmatian coast.

The enemy of war used to be between Serbia, Bulgaria, Rumania and Greece. Now the alignment is different. Bulgaria and Greece hardly need be counted in the approaching troubles, but in their place are Hungary and Slovakia. The actual fighting will take place on the rich Hungarian plain, except for the predicted fighting on the Dalmatian coast. For in the new war Italy is expected to find herself fighting on the same side as Hungary.

The war prophets of the Danube, of whom I have encountered a new in every river town from Budapest to Belgrade, say the Serbs—that is to say, the Jugo-Slavs—will unite against Hungary, and that Italy will take this occasion to try to establish herself definitely on both sides of the Adriatic. The Rumanians are expected—by the Hungarians—to stay out of it until they see how things are going.

THAT IT WILL COME IS TAKEN FOR GRANTED.

As I write this I can hardly believe such a war will ever take place, but everybody down this way takes it for granted. No one feels the great reforming force that would have entered their lives if the United States had found itself loyally on the side of the League of Nations. Without that to go on with petty neighbor quarrels as before. The ordinary run of men regard another war as thus inevitable, and those who direct the affairs of the countries probably to be involved hope it will be soon. They say so, because they hope to get it over with before the western nations, including Germany, have time to mix in. They regard it as their special reserve, and they wish to fight it out in the manner of the world, instead of having it overshadowed by a bigger war.

WOULD HOLD HUNGARIAN LANDS BY VICTORY OF ARMS.

Their point of view is quite human, and easily understood if one is on the ground. Czecho-Slovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania have all profited enormously at the expense of Hungary. They did not do so by force of their own arms, for four years of war proved. Still they are enjoying and wish to continue to enjoy the possession of large sections of what used to be Hungary. They have it because it was so ordained in Paris, although they actually entered in and took possession in the break-up of the Austrian empires, they are all too much soldiers in spirit to feel that they won it in war, certainly not in the old-fashioned way to which they are used. They know the Hungarians do not feel they were defeated by the people who profited at their expense, and they will not feel easy in the possession of their new holdings until they have given the Hungarians a good drubbing and so, according to their lights, proved all rights to possession.

NEEDS BUT TINY SPARK TO START WAR CONFLICT.

The Hungarians, on the other hand, feel sure that the Hungarian populations—which by the peace treaty have become part of Czecho-Slovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania—can be counted upon to be sufficiently disagreeable to keep the border constantly in a ferment, so that one day a patrol that loses its way on purpose can be caught on the wrong side of the line and, if the new enmity is sufficiently worked up at home, the war will be under way in a few minutes.

All it needs is to start. Everybody is armed. Between Prague and Belgrade and between Trieste and Bessarabia there are easily 2,000,000 men in arms. About the only international trade that is going on anywhere along the Danube is in arms and ammunition. Hungary is reducing as rapidly as it can, and there are the factories in both Hungary and Austria convenient for the purpose.

There are 600,000 men under arms in Poland and a million or so in Russia, the possibilities for war are even better than I have suggested. Some people there seem to think Poland may be drawn into this Hungarian affair, but the Poles are not going to have time to look so far afield as Hungary; they are likely to be in it up to the elbows with the Bolsheviki before the spring.

WANT SELF-DETERMINATION IN THEIR OWN WAY.

The Balkan affair, if it happens, will be a little affair all its own, and the other nations please keep off. Down here in this medieval civilization, where the peasant girls all wear their dowries around their necks in the form of coin necklaces, where everyone drives excellent horses over impossible roads, where the lean mountaineer Serb gendarmes rule among the stocky, fat-legged Banat country folk, people are not quite ready to look on as a gift nationality and the self-determination of peoples. They want self-determination well enough, but they have their own way of getting it. They can hardly believe that such manna could drop from Paris. But, even if they have had it out in a good old-fashioned rough-and-tumble Balkan war with fire and sword and atrocities, they will feel there is some flavor to the arrangement.

I have had an excellent and unusual opportunity of finding out what people think in this Banat and Jugo-Slav territory, which has been the seat of the Peace Conference. From Budapest to the line of demarcation, from Subia to Novi-sad (Ujvidek, if you prefer the Hungarian name, and there are those here who do,) from Novi-sad to Belgrade, and so on down to Orsowa and the Iron Gates, I have talked with all sorts and nationalities, and, outside the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Belgrade, I have met very few people who did not expect to see some sort of war—an idea, however. In the Ministry of Foreign Affairs at Belgrade they live too much impressed by the grandeur of gesture that gave them everything they wanted. They cannot see what they could possibly want to fight about, but those, of course, the Italians or the Hungarians were less heedful of the gifts from Paris.

BRITISH PATROL HAS PLENTY OF EXACTING DUTIES.

I have had this intimate look into the provinces as guest of the British motor-boat submarine chaser flotilla on the Danube. They are in charge of the Danube and are responsible for its neutrality. That might seem like patrol work, but it is much more engaging. They have to run the small and coax coal out of Serbian-occupied mines for Austrian tugs making food upstream to Vienna; they have to go into little towns rolling in fats and convince the local authorities that there are orphans in Budapest and all kinds of other people dying of hunger because they can't get these fats. They have to induce Rumanian port captains to let Serbian pilots land. And when they cannot do these things by persuasion they just go and do them anyhow.

So one of these boats there was another supercargo besides myself—a very quiet, harmless-looking British naval lieutenant who had a great cargo of bits that he had been worrying along up the Danube, worming out concessions here, dodging them there. The last time I saw him he

PRESIDENT IS ISOLATED

Has Narrow Escape from Influenza.

Grayson Carefully Guards Patient from Danger from Contagion.

Plan for Taking Wilson to a Milder Climate not Decided Upon.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Wilson's condition has not been so favorable recently and has given rise to recurrence of alarmist rumors, which Dr. Grayson sought to allay today. The President's physician disclosed, however, that the President has taken cold and had a narrow escape from influenza.

Far from being able to attend today's Cabinet meeting, as it had been reported in some quarters he would, the President is just now being kept away from everybody. If Dr. Grayson has any suspicion that any person in the White House is threatened with a mecze, he sees to it that the person gets no where near the President.

For more than a week the President has not been permitted to leave his apartment on the second floor of the White House, short trips in the yard in his wheel chair having been abandoned because of the unfavorable weather and the President's setback.

Although the report persists that the President will be taken away from Washington as soon as he is able to stand a trip, Dr. Grayson will not admit that this plan has been decided upon.

In other quarters it is insisted, however, that the President will be taken to a more favorable climate early in the spring, unless, of course, he should suffer a severe setback. When questioned on the subject Dr. Grayson said that no trip is in contemplation now.

Questioned about the report that the President might soon sit with his Cabinet Dr. Grayson said that he could do so in any emergency, but even then he would advise against it.

NAFARRETTE AN ENEMY.

El Paso Investigation of Mexican Atrocities has Startling Testimony.

Father Tells of Brutal Slaying of His Son in Galena District.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, Feb. 3.—Additional stories of murders, plundering and other lawless acts said to have been perpetrated upon Americans in Mexico were revealed to the Senate subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs at the committee's first hearing in El Paso today.

E. E. Ecke, formerly a contractor employed on a Mexican railway, told of the murder of his son and added that the men responsible for the murder had been "well accounted for."

S. H. Veator, El Paso police captain, testified concerning the devastation of the five Mormon colonies in Chihuahua and W. A. Shults, formerly of the Blaylock colony in Tamaulipas, testified regarding the murders which had come to his knowledge and personal indignities.

Veator told the committee the story of the devastation of the five Mormon colonies in Chihuahua which resulted in their practical abandonment about the time American troops landed in Vera Cruz.

Schultz gave corroborative testimony regarding the dual role played by Luis de la Rosa who, others testified, was a leading factor in the attempted execution of the plan of San Diego. He said that at one time he saw De la Rosa, then a captain in the Carranza army, drilling troops on the parade ground at Victoria, capital of the State of Tamaulipas. He said he was told at the time by soldiers that De la Rosa was drilling the men for the "invasion of Texas."

NAFARRETTE'S ATTITUDE.

Gen. Nafarrette's connection with the anti-American outbreaks was indicated by Schultz's story of the killing of an American named Sawyer. "Sawyer," said Schultz, "was an old man. He went back to the United States and returned with a

HEARST FINDS MARE'S NEST.

"Jap Colonization Plot" Below Border is Branded Pure Fabrication.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Officials in touch with the Mexican situation today branded as a pure fabrication the Hearst-exploited "Jap-Carranza plot" whereby a wide strip of land below the Mexican border in Lower California is supposed to be the object of forthcoming confiscation by Mexico in order to turn it over to the Japanese for colonization purposes.

"A typical, regulation Hearst mare's nest, a preposterous concoction without justification or basis in fact," was the official characterization of the article, apparently born of a peace-time shortage of yellow sensations.

SUBNORMAL RAINFALL CUTS POWER PROFITS.

RAILROAD COMMISSION HEARS STATEMENT OF SAN JOAQUIN COMPANY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Even though the rainfall for the remainder of the winter and spring reaches the normal figure, the returns to the San Joaquin Light and Power Company will be $328,000 less than 15 per cent. profit according to testimony before the Railroad Commission by C. R. Kinny, statistician of the company, in a hearing on a petition for an increase in rates. Kinny said he did not think his company would be able to purchase any more cheap power from the Southern California Edison Company, and a general scarcity of water forced greater use of the steam plants.

Today's hearing was to be held at Fresno, but was transferred from that city because of the influenza situation there, the commissioners announced. The interests represented at the hearing were the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, Fresno Traction Company, city and county of Fresno and the farm bureaus of Kern, Kings, Fresno, Tulare, Madera and Merced counties. The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

RELIEF WORKERS NEED $50,000,000 IN EUROPE.

CARING FOR 2,900,000 CHILDREN AT PRESENT; NEAR EAST IS DESTITUTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—At a conference today of religious organizations engaged in relief work abroad, is was decided that at least $50,000,000 in addition to amounts now available, is urgently needed to alleviate distress in Europe and the near East. Representatives of the interchurch world movement, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., the American's Friends Service Committee, and other religious bodies attended the meeting, which was called by the general council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Reports submitted at the conference showed that 2,900,000 children in Eastern and Southern Europe were now being given a daily supplemental meal through the American relief administration, but that needs in Poland and Austria were not being met adequately. To meet the needs of children, in these countries, it was said, $9,000,000 would be required and for similar work in Germany, $7,000,000. Care of the population of Asia Minor and Syria during the next six months would require more than $30,000,000, it was stated. In Poland, another report said, 2,000,000 pounds of clothing had been provided by the National Lutheran Council in co-operation with the Red Cross.

SCOTLAND WOMEN MAY VOTE COUNTRY DRY.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The lovers of a "wee drep" in Scotland are just awakening to the danger that the country may go dry. It has been shown that after June 1 of this year, a minority of the electorate, providing that the majority is apathetic, may vote the country dry by districts.

The secret of this situation is the quiet passage eight years ago when no one was thinking about prohibition, of an act entitled "The Temperance (Scotland) Act," which provides that after eight years, expiring on June 1, next, any district in Scotland may vote for one of the following alternatives: No change in present arrangement; Closure of one-fourth of existing saloons; total prohibition.

For the purpose of this act, Scotland is divided into four areas, which are roughly coterminus with the present towns and county parishes.

The Kobenhaven declares the agitation has been started "for American money" and asks "for what purpose?"

SHOW SPEED IN ARIZONA TRIAL.

Nine Tentative Jurors are in the Box at Tombstone.

Red Abduction Case Proves Easier than Expected.

Wooten, Bisbee Merchant, is Star Defendant.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) Feb. 3.—Nine jurors had been tentatively accepted from forty-four veniremen examined in the opening day of the trial of Harry E. Wooten, hardware merchant of Bisbee, charged with kidnaping in connection with the deportation of striking miners and sympathizers from that city July 12, 1917.

The majority passed, subject to peremptory challenge of either side, were chiefly farmers and ranchers from far corners of Cochise county.

Speed in selecting the jury surprised both defense and prosecution. Judge Samuel L. Patten is credited with speeding the trial through his ruling that employees of the Phelps Dodge Corporation should be excused in answer to a challenge of County Attorney Robert N. French.

"These employees in justice to themselves should not be required to serve," said the court.

WOOTEN TRIAL FIRST.

Wooten is the fourth man to be called to trial of 210 persons accused of kidnaping 1186 striking miners and their sympathizers from Bisbee. The cases of the first three were continued today when defense and prosecution agreed to proceed with the trial of Wooten after County Attorney French announced he two chief witnesses for the prosecution, Fred Sandiner, James Boyd and Will Trees, were absent from the State. French, before court opened, announced to newspapermen he would move dismissal of the charges against the three, but the Wooten trial automatically continued to the case.

Although the defendants, among whom are included millionaires and some of the most prominent men of Arizona, have previously announced and testified that the deportations were carried out to end a strike alleged to have been fostered and agitated by the Industrial Workers of the World, this organization has not been mentioned since the trial began. It was considered the ridding of the camp of I. W. W. and charges of agitation and intimidation of others who cared to work against that organization and its members will be used by the defense to exonerate the action of the 1000 or more men who carried out the deportations. The fact that the strike was called during war time will be another bit of evidence to be offered by the defense, it was said.

BAR ON INCRIMINATION.

One man drawn for jury duty was excused today when he refused to answer a question from Attorney French whether he took part in the deportations, after the court had instructed the veniremen he did not have to answer on the ground that it might incriminate.

Juror Brown created an uproar of laughter with one answer to a question of Prosecutor French: "Do you know of any reason why you should not qualify and act as a juror in the case?"

"Yes," answered Brown. "The recompense is inadequate to meet the high cost of living in this town."

In most States nine jurymen in the jury box would indicate the jury was nearly completed. In Arizona twenty-four must be passed by both sides before peremptory challenged can be offered. Then the prosecution withdraws five of the veniremen least acceptable to that side and the defense seven, leaving the usual twelve to try the case.

UNIVERSAL TRAINING NOT TO REDUCE ARMY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader, discussing the universal training controversy in the House today, declared operation of the system would not justify a reduction of the regular military establishments below the 284,000 personnel, which is the size of the reorganized army virtually agreed upon. Estimated annual costs for maintenance of an army, together with a trained civilian force, would be approximately $1,500,000,000, Mr. Mondell said.

California Representative Says They Picnic on His Stationery.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—"Lobby bugs" invaded the austere pages of the Congressional Record today, while the House turned aside from debate on the deficiency appropriation bill to discuss their ravages, and take a few laughs on the side.

"They have ruined a large supply of stationery which is charged up against my stationery account," complained Representative Barbour, Republican, California, while the House rocked with mirth. "They even have eaten the covers off my books.

"I have had the superintendent of the office building squirt a solution supposed to be bug juice three or four times around my office, and when he got through the bugs had a picnic, with friends invited."

The House debated the "bugs" until assured that the "maintenance of fund" provided in the bill would supply a war chest for counter-attacks on the enemy.

COBLENZ, Feb. 3.—The rate of exchange for the pay of American soldiers in the occupied territory has been fixed at 100 marks to the dollar, giving the doughboys 3000 marks monthly. This is considerably more than the pay of the German officials in Coblenz. When the Americans first went to the occupied regions they received 18 or 20 marks to the dollar.

In reply to tearful requests from Mrs. Burger that New be not put to work in the jute mill on account of the condition of his lungs, Warden Johnston reassured her that her son would be shown the same consideration as other prisoners.

SENATE BEGINS CLOTURE FIGHT.

Wide Difference of Opinion Precedes Treaty Fight.

Red Tape Tangle from Previous Session in the Way.

Borah Gives His Ideas on Viscount Grey's Letters.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senate leaders, preparing to bring the peace treaty again to the surface of Senate consideration next week, took up today the problem of clearing away the wreckage of tangled parliamentary red tape, which the treaty carried down with it when it failed of ratification last November.

Not the least of their troubles was the cloture which was invoked to choke off debate, just before the ratification vote and which Vice-President Marshall is expected to hold, must come back along with the treaty. The leaders want some sort of cloture but they do not want so stringent a rule, under which many Senators already have exhausted their full quota of time.

The method apparently most in favor for avoiding this difficulty is to recommit the treaty to the Foreign Relations Committee, a move which parliamentary experts says would automatically rid it of its cloture restriction.

FOR MODIFIED CLOTURE.

Some Senators, however, are strongly adverse to opening the gates to debate without any form of cloture and are bringing pressure to bear on the Rules Committee to act promptly on one of the proposals for modified cloture before it. The leaders, however, were not hopeful that any action would be possible before Monday.

In case the committee does not act, it is possible there may be a move to adopt a cloture rule in the Senate without committee consideration.

A statement declaring the recent letter of Viscount Grey and the cablegram of Lloyd George bore out the contentions of the treaty's irreconcilable foes was issued tonight by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho. It said:

BORAH'S IDEAS.

"The weakening and injury to the League which some apprehend from the American reservations will not be felt in practice.' Thus Viscount Grey disposes of all reservations and renounces them as utterly ineffective and worthless. The sad part of it is that he is entirely correct. Those proposed reservations do not protect our independence. They do not protect America at all. They are simply the flimsy excuse for failing to do what it is the plain duty of patriotic men to do. They are the answer of party politics to the demand by foreign governments to surrender our independence.

"The Grey interview and Lloyd George's cablegram ought to convince anyone that there is just one question involved in this controversy —that is, shall we enter the League or shall we stay out of it. When we enter the League we are there for all purposes and our reservations will never be felt nor even respected.

"It has been known in Washington for weeks that the Lodge reservations were entirely satisfactory to the English Premier. He would have said so publicly long ago but he did not desire to offend the President."

Explaining the reference to Premier Lloyd George's cablegram, Senator Borah said he understood that such a cablegram as he quoted was sent by the British Premier to Viscount Grey early in January. He added that he had been informed that two or more members of the Senate had seen the cablegram, although he had never seen it himself.

FEAR SUGAR SHORTAGE FROM HAWAIIAN STRIKE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 3.—Warning to go slow on their sugar sales on account of strikes of plantation workers in the Hawaiian Islands were sent to Seattle grocers today by the county fair price committee. The warnings were issued when the committee was advised that several California sugar refineries had closed on account of the strikes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Of the two principal cane sugar refineries of California, only one, the Western Sugar Refining Company, reported suspension of operations tonight on account of a lack of raw sugar resulting from the plantation workers' strike in the Hawaiian Islands.

ARIZONA TO CONSIDER SUFFRAGE ON FEB. 12.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Feb. 3.—Gov. Campbell has issued his call for the special session to convene February 12. Despite heavy pressure, especially from interests seeking road legislation, only women suffrage is to be considered. It is believed that the session will be of three days, owing to constitutional restrictions concerning the manner of passage of legislative measures. Otherwise a single day would be sufficient, even for the oratory that always accompanies reference to woman in the Arizona Legislature.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Beginning Memorial Day, an American flag will fly from the grave of every American soldier buried in France, the War Department announced today. In addition, post flags will be hoisted in the center of the large cemeteries and smaller flags will be used at the smaller burial grounds.

PREMIER'S :: SON :: IS :: LIVE :: WIRE.

Too Busy to Talk at Random to Reporters

Maj. and Mrs. Richard Lloyd George.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maj. Richard Lloyd George, son of the famous British Premier, arrived in Chicago today. Chicago thinks it is alert and several paces in advance of the "sleepy" Britishers, but Maj. Lloyd George is evidently of a new type of later and revised editions of the Britisher. He gave a first-class imitation of a man driving strictly at his own business affairs and at a rate of speed that astonished the reporters and photographers who attempted to intercept him.

"I cawn't see the gentlemen of the press today," he announced. "I have arranged to meet them at 9:45 tomorrow morning. Good-day."

It was learned that he detests politics and will not talk on the subject. He will not discuss prohibition and he probably will confine his interview to the threadbare questions as to his impressions of America and American girls and sport suits and the other questions invariably shot at every newcomer.

He is an engineer and is in this country in that connection.

AMERICAN TELLS VENDETTA TALE.

wife. One day the Mexicans came to his house and shot him in the stomach because he hesitated when they demanded to know where he kept his money. His wife told them. It was buried and she pointed out the place. When she returned to the house Sawyer was dead. I appealed to Nafarrette, asking him if he would permit me to join in a posse to run down his murderers. 'We don't need your assistance,' was Nafarrette's reply, who added, 'we are going to drive all of your Americans out of here.'"

As an example of the indignities to which he said Americans were subjected, Schultz told the committee of an incident in Victoria. He said he was passing the barracks in front of which a group of soldiers was sitting. They arose as he approached and everyone spat on him and then stoned him as long as he was within throwing distance of the soldiers.

WHAT COULD HE DO?

"And what did you do," inquired Senator Smith.

"What could I do," inquired the witness. "I said good afternoon as politely as I could and continued on my way."

Ecke is the American who led the rescue party after a trainload of passengers had been burned to death in the Cumbre tunnel in 1914. One of the Mexican leaders, said to have been Maximo Castillo, had blocked one end of the tunnel with a burned freight train. Deceived by the absence of any guard at the northern end of the tunnel, a train bearing approximately 150 passengers soon afterwards dashed into the tunnel where it collided with the burning cars. How many Americans were on the train has never been fully determined and is estimated at from twenty-five to fifty. When the bodies were removed, they were unrecognizable. Ecke's description of the relief work included the statement that four days elapsed before the heat in the tunnel had subsided enough to permit its entry by rescuers. And even then, Ecke said, 'a pair of shoes was burned out every time we went in, the water-soaked sponges which were at our mouths barely suffeing to last until we could get one body out.'"

CASTILLO RELEASED.

Maximo Castillo, accused of the wholesale murder, was arrested in El Paso, but released for want of evidence. The witness said he thought he was still somewhere in New Mexico. Martin Lopez whose name also was connected with the massacre, never was captured by Americans.

Ecke's story of the killing of his son caused him to betray the first sign of bitterness. The old man's voice broke for an instant in his recital, but again was firm when he intimated that every man in the gang that attacked young Ecke had since "been accounted for."

It was not long after the Cumbre tunnel disaster in 1914 that Karl Ecke, 17 years old, accompanied by E. L. Bishop, and two servants, a negro and a Mexican, started into the Galena district in an automobile. They were halted by a group of Mexicans, a few of whom had at one time worked for the boy's father. The men were taken to a near-by house, where the decision to execute them was announced. Bishop said to the leader, "Why, you don't want to do that. That man," pointing to Ecke, "is good for a ransom."

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

His answer was a shot through the heart. Ecke and the negro ran for the horses tethered near by. But they were too late. The lassoes of the Mexicans fell over their heads and when their bodies were found they bore evidence of having been dragged until life was gone, Ecke's neck was broken. The Mexican was not killed and it was from him the father learned the details of his son's death.

"What happened to the Mexicans," asked Senator Smith.

"They were all accounted for," was the reply.

"Yes, but I mean by what authorities."

"By the proper authorities, I believe," said the father. "The Villistas got four of them, somebody else got another and then there were four left. They have been accounted for, too."

VILLA'S DRY RULE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Because Francisco Villa "reserves all rights to robbery and loot for himself," his operations are looked upon with favor by the population, the Senate committee investigating the Mexican situation was told today by Henry H. Knox, a New York mining engineer. Mr. Knox said he had had twenty years' experience in Mexico.

"Villa establishes a certain rough justice," Mr. Knox said, "whenever he gains control of an area and represses all looting, robbery and drunkenness. His first act is to close the saloons.

"No one else is allowed to rob, and Villa contents himself with making a levy on classes of the population able to pay, saying that the money is to go to his cause and giving a receipt. The levy stands for a certain period."

"How does that compare with the Carranza government's methods?" he was asked.

CARRANZA A ROBBER.

"Well, Villa's system has a certain finality about it. During the period for which his levy is made, no more demands are formulated. The Carranza government makes its levy today and comes forward with demands for more tomorrow, and on the next day."

Refuting charges that American mining interests were exploiting Mexico, Ellis O. Bagge, an American mining engineer, said the Americans had been able to get only the "skimmed milk" of mining properties because the natives had taken the best for themselves. Carranza army chiefs, Bagge said, would "lose their graft" if Villa were captured because they depended on Villa to furnish an excuse for an army and on the army to keep them supplied with loot.

FOREIGN BRIEFS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, Feb. 3.—The Rev. H. P. Glenn of Brav, county Wicklow, a native of Indianapolis, has been chosen to succeed Chaplain-General Simms as moderator of the Irish Presbyterian Church.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, accompanied by Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, landed at Portsmouth today from the battle cruiser New Zealand and proceeded to London.

BERLIN, Monday, Feb. 2.—The motion of the Independent Socialists to raise the siege of siege, introduced in the National Assembly Friday last, was defeated today. Only one Independent supported the measure when it was put to a vote.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Rear-Admiral Salaun, former director of submarine warfare, has been appointed chief of the General Staff of the navy, Rear-Admiral Levavasseur and Capt. Jean Mottez have been named as his assistants.

DUNDALK (Ireland) Feb. 3.—The steam packet Iveagh, which left Liverpool for Dundalk Monday night with passengers and cargo, has not arrived, causing great uneasiness. Crowds have gathered outside the gates at the head of the wharf, awaiting news of the vessel.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The Polish republic has decided to award every honor within its power to the memory of Lieut. Edmund P. Graves of Boston, Mass., a member of the Kosciusko aerial squadron of the Polish army, who was killed at Lemburg November 22 last, according to a dispatch from Warsaw dated January 12.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 3.—The Scandinavian premiers and foreign ministers, at a conference, decided to accept the invitation to join the League of Nations, it was learned today. The decision was arrived at without enthusiasm, as it was considered that without the United States the League did not guarantee much.

ROME, Monday, Feb. 2.—The Giornale d'Italia, in an editorial today, expressed the belief that now is the time for Premier Nitti to put an end to the Adriatic controversy, with the aid of Great Britain and France, "while it is evident that the United States will stand aside, having the right no more to intervene in the settlement of European questions."

BALKANS ON EVE OF A NEW WAR.

was plodding through the mud, carting his fats through swamps to a point where it was agreed he might take these fats into Hungary. The easiest and most natural way to get these fats upstream was to tow them up the river, but, rather than enter into any more official negotiations, he unloaded them into carts and set off overswamp. One would have thought his life depended on getting these fats through or that he was going to earn great riches, he set such store by success; but all there was in it for him was some thanks or other, and perhaps not even that. There was undoubtedly some personal satisfaction, however, in the idea that he was getting even with the Serbs for closing their frontier.

SERB PUNITIVE PLAN.

The frontier has been closed to traffic of every kind all during this period. The Hungarians are responsible for raiding across the line of demarcation and getting the Serbs angry, for the Serbs are inclined on the whole to be very correct toward the orders from Paris, and since the Hungarians failed to heed to the letter the orders of the Peace Conference they decided to punish them. The effect of what they did, however, was simply to cut off food shipments to Budapest, and the type of Hungarian who made the raids hates Budapest, hates it more than ever since the Bela Kun affair, and he cares precious little whether Budapest starves or not. If he could succeed in annoying the Serb at so small an expense as the starvation of Budapest he would ride up to his own favorite tavern in Kapesevar and eat and drink with good appetite.

HUNGARY WILL START IT.

The war will be brought on by the Hungarians, for there is no set of peace delegates which Hungary can use to sign the peace treaty which will satisfy these country people, who are Hungary. The way they keep on raiding across the demarcation line shows there is no way to control them. They will keep the Banat lively, and those who live on the Serb side of the new line, of whom there are a great number, will help.

But they are not foolish. They are not going to move just yet, with three armies all ready to pounce upon them. The Hungarian hand is not so clumsy as that. They mean to foster revolution in all the portions of the country given to others. They talk already about the discontent of the Slovaks against the Czech bureaucracy as the beginnings of a revolution, and in Transylvania there is so much actual discontent against the Rumanians that this situation can come near being classified as revolt.

In the Banat and along the lower Danube they are likely to have less success, and they know it. They respect the military prowess of the Serb. But there are considerable stretches of almost purely Hungarian territory within the Serbian lines. All along the river from Baja to Mohacs, to Apatin. It is obvious even to a stranger. Further down stream, here in Novi-sad, for instance, the Serb element is predominant, and the Hungarians know it is healthier to keep still.

The most serious side to the coming war, then, is the south against the Serbs. If I write about it in this matter-of-fact way it is because the people I have been associating with the past ten days talk that way. The Hungarians want it, and the Serbs see it coming. The Serbs would be content to lay down their arms forever, or almost forever, but they see those discontented Hungarians on one side and the Italians holding to their ports on the other. Without free access through those ports they cannot as a country breathe. They will have to pay toll to Italy every time they move something in or out of the country and they do not see the point in that.

There are plenty of causes for future war lying loose in the new Balkans, and the League of Nations as it stands today, without the moral support of the United States, is powerless to prevent the least of them.

NONPARTISAN ANGERED BY LANDIS STATEMENT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Representative J. H. Sinclair of North Dakota angered because Judge Landis of Chicago had coupled the Nonpartisan League with the I.W.W. in a speech at Indianapolis Sunday night in which he is reported to have advocated 'execution rather than deportation of treason agitators," has telegraphed Judge Landis to ask if he was correctly quoted.

Sinclair wants the judge to tell him whether he said, as reported, after advocating execution of the treason agitators, that "the Socialists, the I.W.W.'s and the Nonpartisan Leaguers are all the same—their fundamentals are the same."

Sinclair, who is a member of the Nonpartisan League, disclaims the comparison, stating that the fundamentals of the league and the I. W.W. are far from the same, the former advocating reform by ballot and the latter by force, if necessary.

PORTLAND POSTMASTER DEFIES WILSON'S ORDER.

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 3.—Frank S. Myers, postmaster at Portland, continued to assert his claim to the position today, notwithstanding the fact that President Wilson yesterday signed an order removing him from office. Pending action by the Senate, affirming or failing to concur in the President's order, Myers stated he will continue to occupy his office. Orders were being given by Chief Inspector Barclay and he was in charge of the actual operation of the postoffice.

DEATH IN LIMERICK RIOTS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Serious rioting occurred at Limerick last night, according to a dispatch to the Star. The military fired on the crowd of demonstrators and one man was killed. The latter was Richard Dwyer, a publican. A woman also received a shot in the body and is believed to be mortally wounded. A number of other persons were injured.

Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons, has written to James McKean, Unionist candidate for the Commons governing dominions from Paisley, Scotland, where former Premier Asquith is [illegible] the Liberal ticket, recommending [illegible] "to every elector who believes [illegible] the national interest that the present government should continue."

Mr. Asquith, at a meeting last night, devoted himself to the Irish question, declaring that the only effectual means of getting at the root of the trouble was a [illegible] system of Irish government. This, he said, prepared to give a new Irish Parliament control over customs and excise, in order that the Irish might be in this respect on the same footing as the self-governing dominions.

D'ANNUNZIO SEIZES SHIPS

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TRIESTE, Feb. 3.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, Italian insurgent leader at Fiume, has seized the torpedo boat Orsini and the auxiliary ship Citta di Roma, bound from Ancona to Pola with munitions and foodstuffs for the Italian naval forces. The vessels were brought into Fiume yesterday.

TURIN, Monday, Feb. 2.—Four lieutenants, five sublieutenants and one sergeant of D'Annunzio's Fiumian army, who made up the party which kidnaped Gen. Nigra, commander of the Italian Forty-ninth Division, stationed at Istria, last Wednesday night, have been arrested and are imprisoned here, after having again crossed the armistice line. Other "desperate deeds" are charged against them.

ROME, Monday, Feb. 2.—Reports have reached this city that an Italian steamer Danubio has been attacked at the city of Trau on the Dalmatian coast and that she was forced to lower her Italian flag. It is said passengers on the vessel were insulted and some of the wounded during the attack. Considerable excitement has been caused by this report, which follows rumors of similar incidents at Spalato and other cities on the eastern coast of the Adriatic.

Commenting on the incident, Giornale d'Italia after citing the recent "Fugo-Slav" provocations, again urges the government to insist upon the application of the Treaty of London.

ROME, Feb. 3.—Enrico Malatesta, anarchist member of the Chamber of Deputies, who was arrested at Leghorn, after he had delivered an inflammatory speech at Pisa, was released today after an investigation.

HOPE FOR RAIL BILL BRIGHTER.

Senate Members Agree to Two Eliminations.

Deadlock End Now Seems to be Almost Assured.

But the Anti-Strike Clause may Bring More Trouble.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senate and House conferees on railroad reorganization legislation, after a deadlock for weeks over the Cummins and Esch bills, tonight saw a glimmer of light ahead. The joint committee of the two houses made marked progress at today's session through agreement of the Senate members for elimination of the compulsory consolidation of railroads and establishment of a transportation board provision from the Cummins measure.

Several vexing differences, however, remain to be adjusted before the end of the month when the railroad properties are to be returned to private control or operation. Chief of these are the labor and anti-strike provisions of the Senate measure.

WANT "WATER" OUT.

The squeezing of "water" from railroad stocks and the placing of the roads on a stable financial basis was urged in a brief filed with the House and Senate conferees on railroad legislation today by the Citizens' National Railroad League.

A guaranteed return of at least 6 per cent. on the value of the properties and establishment of a revolving fund of one billion dollars instead of $500,000,000, so that the railroads can secure financial assistance at low interest rates and thus "preclude the necessity for their having to go to the old Wall street interests for their financing," also were recommended.

Interests of both the country and the carriers would be protected, the brief said, if the government would fund for from ten to fifteen years the entire amount which the railroads now owe it without deducting what it owes the roads.

WAGE RISE DISCUSSION.

Prolonged discussion of demands for increased wages between Railroad Administration officials and representatives of the 2,000,000 employees of Federal controlled railroads had netted no tangible results when the first session of the conference adjourned tonight.

Director-General Hines had not presented his proposals in their entirety when the conference broke up, having adopted the "policy of hearing arguments from all union heads as each particular statement of the government's case was laid before the conference.

DANIELS GIVES REPLY TO SIMS.

Tells His Side of Dispute Over War Decorations.

Supports Contentions that Medals Were Deserved.

Says Navy Morale All Right Except for Man Shortage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Secretary Daniels made formal answer today to criticism by Rear-Admiral Sims and others, of the policy followed in awarding war decorations.

Appearing before the Senate subcommittee investigating the awards, Mr. Daniels reaffirmed the reasons which led him to alter some of the recommendations for decorations, supporting his contentions with a long carefully-prepared statement.

Other charges made by Admiral Sims as to the preparedness of the navy at the start of the war and the degree of co-operation with Allied admirals, were not taken up directly, Mr. Daniels confining his testimony wholly to the medal controversy.

When the Secretary concluded Chairman Hale adjourned the hearing until Friday.

The Secretary during the two and a half-hour reading of his statement showed considerable feeling, particularly when he countered the statement of Admiral Sims that the American navy "did no fighting during the war." Mr. Daniels, vigorously pounding the table, told the committee that it was well that Admiral Sims had not made such an assertion to the men operating American vessels in the war zone, for if he had "he would have had a revolt in his own command."

TAKES SLAM AT SIMS.

The Secretary also departed from his written statement to declare that Admiral Sims, as a result of personal differences with Admiral Wilson, former commander of American naval forces off the French coast, had omitted Wilson's name from the list of officers recommended for Distinguished Service Medals.

"While Admiral Sims recommended young officers who served well in minor posts for Distinguished Service Medals and other flag officers under his command for the same honor," said Mr. Daniels, "he omitted that distinguished admiral, who commanded all American naval forces off the French coast, Rear-Admiral Wilson, now commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

"When the history of the war is written Admiral Wilson's service will stand as high as that of Sims, Mayo, Benson or Rodman."

When it was decided to appoint Admiral Wilson commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, Secretary Daniels said, Admiral Sims wrote a letter of protest. Characterizing the contemplated appointment as a "very grave mistake, indeed," the letter called Secretary Daniels's attention to the "trouble Admiral Wilson gave me in the discharge of my duties."

AND "EVERYTHING."

Referring to Sims's criticism that his recommendation of a Distinguished Service Medal for Commander J. C. Babcock, his chief of staff, and his "everything," had not been followed, Secretary Daniels said:

"If I had thought Commander Babcock the 'everything' of the navy across the seas, I certainly would have sent him to represent the navy instead of Admiral Sims. I do not believe in having two supermen to do a one-man job."

The Secretary's testimony for the most part was confined to the prepared statement in which he took up point by point statements before the subcommittee by Admiral Sims.

On the importance of sea service as compared to service ashore, Mr. Daniels said he had not and would never "approve a disparity, between awards given men who served on shore as compared with the men who went to sea." Admiral Sims, he asserted, probably advocated high awards for many officers who served on staff duty ashore and few awards for officers who went to sea because "most of Admiral Sims's duty in the navy has been on shore."

FOR MEN WHO LOST SHIPS.

Turning to the second fundamental difference between his views and those of Admiral Sims, Secretary Daniels said that many other admirals of the navy and the Knight board of medal awards had established a precedent that such officers of ships torpedoed or mined should be decorated whenever their conduct was meritorious and reflected credit on the service.

Concluding his testimony with a denial of Admiral Sims's charge that "navy morale has been shot to pieces through the method followed in awarding honors," the Secretary declared that there was nothing the matter with the morale of the navy, except a shortage of enlisted men and insufficient pay for the officers and men left.

SAN DIEGO ENTRY PORT.

Order Separates it from Customs District of Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Wilson's order for the re-establishment of the office of collector of customs at San Diego reached the Secretary of the Treasury today. This order eliminates San Diego from the customs district of Los Angeles and restores San Diego as an independent port of entry.

This action is in contravention of the general reorganization of the customs service under President Taft. It means that the imports and exports for San Diego heretofore reported as part of the Los Angeles district imports and exports will be reported direct. This particular executive order is credited to the efforts of Congressman Kettner.

DEFEAT HONDURAN REBELS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Feb. 3.—There has been a fresh revolutionary outbreak in Honduras, according to advices received today. The revolutionists, which are headed by Don Alberto Membreno, former Vice-President of Honduras, and Dr. Rosario Soriano, have suffered a heavy defeat by government forces and now are retiring toward the Nicaraguan frontier.

SAN SALVADOR (Republic of Salvador) Feb. 3.—Gen. Rafael Lopez Gutierrez, who was elected President of the republic of Honduras in October, last, was inaugurated yesterday.

THE NOCCALULA AGROUND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The U. S. Shipping Board ship Noccalula, bound for Rotterdam from New Orleans, was reported aground early today eight miles from the Trinity Shoals buoy.

IN MOTHERHOOD

A woman needs all the strength possible to take good care of her baby. The reflections of a married woman are not pleasant if she is delicate, run-down, or over-worked. She feels "played out." Her smile and good spirits have taken flight. It worries her husband as well as herself.

This is the time to build up her strength and remove those weaknesses or ailments which are the seat of her trouble.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholia and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, restores health and strength. It overcomes those disorders and derangements of womanhood. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

HILL, CALIF.—"I can hardly express in words the benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I suffered greatly at times. I tried several remedies but to no good. Then I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and took two bottles, which righted everything. I also used eight bottles during expectancy and had practically no suffering. My boy weighed 9 pounds; I only weighed 98 lbs. I know if I hadn't used Dr. Pierce's medicines I would not have been so fortunate."—MRS. JNO. H. STELLING.

Advice of Manufacturers and Wholesalers

In our desire to render to manufacturers and jobbers a service that may be of great value, we seek your advice on the course that a prudent merchant in your line of business should pursue in buying and selling goods, when prices show a declining tendency.

(1) How should a merchant avoid the dangers involved in falling prices?
(2) What policy should he follow in buying goods?
(3) What policy should he employ in selling goods?
(4) What should be his terms of sale to his customers?
(5) What should be his policy in collecting his accounts?
(6) What should be his policy in borrowing money?

We desire to get the consensus of opinion of manufacturers and wholesalers as to the precautions which ought to be taken on a falling merchandise market, in order to avert a crisis or disaster. We are compiling a treatise that will show the views of business leaders of America on this vital subject. To all firms who contribute to the symposium we will send this brochure free of cost. It will be off the press shortly. May we not have your views on the above?

Tobacco Hardens the Arteries, Overtaxes the Heart and Shortens Life.

Says Dr. Connor, Who Suggests a Simple Test to Find If It Is Hurting You. Can You Stand It?

New York.—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Hundreds of thousands of men who smoke and chew and who believe themselves healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. They would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and most of them would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco.

The best known habit forming principal of tobacco is nicotine, but the most deadly and demoralizing is furfural. Both are deadly poisons, which, when absorbed by the system slowly, but surely, affect the nerves, gloominess, tissues, vital organs and vitality of the body.

The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances and the individual. In some it causes general debility, others catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, cowardice and fear, mental confusion, etc.; in others it causes heart disease, bronchial troubles, hardening of the arteries, palpitation of the heart, tuberculosis, blindness, cancer and the common affliction known as tobacco heart.

If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect its harmful effect by making the following simple tests: Read aloud a full page from a book. If your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of very serious catarrhal troubles. Next, in the morning, before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, if your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be the victim of a functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke or chew to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit and are slowly poisoning yourself with the insidious deadly drugs, nicotine and furfural. In either case, you have just two alternatives—keep on with your self-poisoning process regardless of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or rid yourself of the habit and escape the dangers.

You can overcome the craving and stop the tobacco habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol. Take one tablet after each meal and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco. The craving will have left you. With the nicotine poisoning out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Speer, When asked about Nicotol, one of our leading druggists said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit. It is way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including the Owl Drug Stores. —[Advertisement.

OUR FLAG FOR GERMAN SHIPS.

War Department Insists on Control of Liners.

May Need Them Again for Military Transports.

Name Los Angeles Among Best-Organized Ports.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.— Coincident with the explanation of Brig.-Gen. Hines, chief of the army transport service, to the Senate Commerce Committee of the War Department's attitude toward the sale of former German liners, the Shipping Board today announced the sale of the Mercury, one of the thirty former ships, for which the board recently received bids. The Mercury, however, is not one of the vessels against the sale of which the War Department protested.

Bids for the twenty-nine other former German passenger ships still are being considered, and Chairman Payne said tonight that it was unlikely that any decision would be reached for a day or two. In the meantime, it is expected that an agreement will be reached with the War Department in the matter of the disposal of such vessels as the department has included in its transport reserve.

The board also announced the sale of the Pequot, an 8900-ton cargo vessel, formerly German-owned, to the Wymans Steamship Company for $1,335,000.

FOR WAR EMERGENCY.

Gen. Hines explained the position of the War Department that the former German boats should be operated permanently under the American flag, and that their purchasers should bind themselves to turn over the ships to the government in national emergency, told the committee that the army was holding millions of dollars' worth of equipment to refit them as transports should the need arise.

Discussing with Chairman Jones of the committee the disposition to be made of the army terminals acquired at Hoboken, Newport News, Va., and other ports, during the war, at a cost of $192,000,000, Gen. Hines said this was a matter of which Secretary Baker had taken personal cognizance, but outside of the transfer of a single pier to the Panama Railroad Company, no action had been taken.

Chairman Jones remarked that, while the army was retaining its Hoboken piers, Shipping Board vessels were paying from $250 to $400 a day for berthing privileges. This led to the observation by Senator Chamberlain, Democrat, Oregon, that "whenever any department of the government gets hold of a given activity it takes an act of Providence to get them out of it."

Maj.-Gen. William Black, former chief of army engineers and now engineer for the Shipping Board, who was another witness, sharply criticised port conditions at New York.

WOULD ACQUIRE PIERS.

Shipping Board vessels, Gen. Black said, had paid recently as high as $400 a day for berthing in New York, though pre-war rates were from $60 to $80. As a remedy, Gen. Black suggested that the Shipping Board be given authority to acquire and control as many piers as possible, including construction of a great central railroad terminal opposite Bayonne, N. J., and the acquirement of the army's Hoboken terminals by the board.

Port facilities at New York were greatly congested, he said, although the facilities at Boston and Philadelphia were not half utilized.

San Francisco, Seattle, Los Angeles and New Orleans, Gen. Black asserted, were the only four ports in the United States organized for operation.

CLOTHING MEN TELL HOW TO CUT PRICES.

INCREASED PRODUCTION AND BETTER DISTRIBUTION ARE ESSENTIAL FACTORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Increased production, more efficient distribution and stabilization of prices are necessary to reduce the price of clothing, dealers in men's wear today informed Howard Figg, who is in charge of the Department of Justice campaign to reduce the cost of living.

Representatives of the clothing trade concluding a two-day conference adopted resolutions pledging co-operation of the manufacturers, merchants, producers and employees in the clothing industry to the Department of Justice which was called upon to investigate charges of profiteering and if substantiated to institute prosecutions. A committee was appointed to assist Mr. Figg in carrying out the recommendations of the conference.

In a statement tonight outlining the result of the conference Figg said that causes for the present high prices, ways and means of correcting them, standardization of clothing and other pertinent matters entered into the discussion, which will be of material assistance.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Sixteen per cent. was set as the maximum profit for woolen merchants today by Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator. Mr. Williams gave the firm of Binder and Hyman, who had made a profit of $1.05 a yard on 1272 yards of woolens which they bought for $2.55, twenty-four hours to buy back the goods from the complaining firm, H. P. Belsinger & Co., at the price paid and resell at a profit of not more than 10 per cent.; return, $1.35 for each yard to Belsinger & Co. or turn the $1.35 a yard over to charity.

Would End Federal Wheat Control.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Repeal of the war-time act giving the government control over the price and distribution of wheat is proposed in a bill introduced today by Chairman Gronna of the Senate Agriculture Committee, to which the measure was referred. Among other things, the bill would abolish the U. S. Grain Corporation.

BUT NINE CHALLENGES LEFT IN REDS' TRIAL.

CHARGE MADE THAT SPECIAL PROSECUTOR IS EMPLOYEE OF LUMBER INTERESTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MONTESANO (Wash.) Feb. 3.—When court adjourned at 5 o'clock tonight but eleven men were in the jury box for the trial of the same number of alleged members of the I.W.W., charged with the murder of Warren O. Grimm, one of the victims of the Armistice Day shootings in Centralia.

Five men, two by the State and three by the defense, were challenged and excused today, and four were seated in their places.

Prosecution and defense had exercised one-half of their peremptory challenges when court adjourned at noon today. Only nine peremptory challenges remain to be invoked.

Personal clashes between Attorney Vanderveer for the defense and Abel, special prosecutor, enlivened today's session. Vanderveer indicating that he would later present evidence in an effort to show that Abel was employed by "lumber interests" to prosecute the case. Abel vehemently denied the implication. Paul Mohr, president of the Bakers' Union in Seattle, arrived here today. He said he had come as a delegate of the Seattle Central Labor Council, with instructions to listen to the evidence and submit a report to his organization. Two other representatives of Seattle labor unions, it was understood, would be here to compile independent reports for their organizations.

Influenza again interfered with speedy examination of veniremen today, the names of many being called who, it developed, are already ill.

SHIPBUILDING QUERY BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 3.—Investigation of alleged irregularities in the Pacific Coast shipbuilding programme was resumed here today, it was believed, when Bert Schlesinger, San Francisco, special assistant Attorney-General, appeared before a Federal grand jury. Mr. Schlesinger later called Walter C. Foster, special agent of the Department of Justice, into the jury room.

The grand jury was in session for six hours today, adjourning at 4:30 o'clock until 2 o'clock p.m. Wednesday. At that time, it was understood, a report would be made to Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer. Five witnesses appeared before the jury today.

Following the indictment by the grand jury recently of Capt. John P. Blain, charging him with accepting approximately $17,000 in secret commission while North Pacific manager of the U. S. Shipping Board, Mr. Foster asserted that evidence which probably would lead to other indictments had been prepared and would be submitted to the grand jury shortly after it reconvened.

SAYS WAR PLANT COST FOUR TIMES TOO MUCH.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The government nitrate plant at Toledo, O., built at an estimated cost of $20,000,000, could have been duplicated, land and all, for $5,500,000, Henry G. Tyrrell, of New York, formerly an appraiser in the War Department, testified today before a House war investigating committee.

After completing his work at Toledo, Tyrrell said he sent a detailed report to Washington and proceeded with an investigation of the Ancor plant at Cincinnati, when he was suddenly called off.

Says corns stop hurting, then lift right off without one bit of pain

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus without even one little twinge of pain.

You simply apply a few drops of this freezone on a tender, aching corn and the soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, with your finger.

This drug is sticky, but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue ir skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know this.—[Advertisement.

NEWBERRY TRIAL TAKING EVIDENCE

Michigan Senator Faces Conspiracy Charges.

Campaign Expense Subject of Court Ruling.

"Barrel of Money Campaign" Talk is Revived.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GRAND RAPIDS, Feb. 3.—Preceded by an appeal to the jury by James W. Helme, candidate for United States Senator in the 1918 Democratic primary, the first evidence was introduced today in the Newberry elections conspiracy trial.

Helme's appearance followed a statement by James O. Murfin, who opened for the defense, that Helme had been "worked" by the Newberry campaign committee into making the race against Henry Ford. Murfin explained that this was done to prevent Democratic votes being cast for Ford in the Republican primary.

Helme said that Samuel O'Dell, another defendant, and who was State Treasurer in 1919, told him that if he "beat Ford in the Democratic primary and Ford won the Republican nomination, all the Republications would turn to me in the general election."

Helme concluded with an explanation that his motive was to "eliminate one of the millionaires from the campaign."

Two witnesses were called today, J. G. Hayden, Washington correspondent of the Detroit News, and James F. Sweenhart, head of the paper's New York bureau. Sweenhart related that Frederick) Cody, conversing in New York regarding the Newberry candidacy, had said: "It will be a great time for the boys in Michigan, because they will spend a barrel of money."

Hayden said Cody told him that the Newberrys were "immensely wealthy," but that he had advised both Cody and Newberry not to make a "barrel campaign." He said Newberry agreed with him.

WANTED UNITED SUPPORT.

Hayden also testified that he advised Newberry to get the united support of all Republican factions in Detroit as a necessary start to a successful campaign, and told him that Oscar Marks, then Mayor and Milton Oakman, headed the city and county organizations respectively. Oakman is a defendant and Marks is a witness.

On cross-examination Mr. Littleton brought out that Newberry had told Hayden he had been urged to run for the office by Gov. Albert E. Sleeper.

Prior to the introduction of testimony, Allen V. Rees of Houghton, attorney for Myron Sherwood of Marquette; James Fisher of Calumet and John Jones of Ontanagon, entered an objection to further proceedings.

He said that the indictment was insufficient, in that it did not allege any knowledge by the defendants of any acts or intended acts, or designs, which would be offenses under the Federal law, and he maintained that such knowledge would be necessary to constitute the offense of conspiracy.

Asst. Atty.-Gen. Dailey said tonight that even if the State law were applied generally, it would not let down the bars beyond the Federal limitation of $10,000 for Senatorial campaign expenses. He also pointed out that Federal laws forbid campaign purchases of newspaper advertising space, and that the reports filed by the Newberry organization acknowledged that more than $40,000 had been used for that purpose.

EXPENSE LIMIT $3750.

When Mr. Murfin started to read the Michigan statute the government objected that it was a portion of State law which had not been adopted into the Federal statute, and therefore would not apply to the case. Judge Sessions ruled that the sections might be read, but he would not allow Mr. Murfin to construe it, and added:

"In order that there may be no misunderstanding, I will announce that the court will hold that the Federal corrupt practices act adopts that portion of the Michigan law which limits the campaign expenditures of a candidate to one-quarter of the office's annual salary in the primary, and an equal amount in the election. In this case, the total would be $3750 for the two campaigns."

"That applies to the candidate's money," suggested Mr. Murfin.

Judge Sessions thought it applied to the campaign and Martin W. Littleton joined the discussion for the defense.

PALMER'S ESPEE LAND PLAN RILES PINCHOT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Gifford Pinchot wrote an open letter to President Wilson today protesting against the decision of Atty.-Gen. Palmer not to appeal from the decision adverse to the government of the district court at Los Angeles in a suit to recover from the Southern Pacific Railroad 160,000 acres of oil lands.

Mr. Pinchot wrote that the lands were said to be worth $600,000,000, that Mr. Palmer's course "is clearly unfaithful to his public duty," and that "his action, unless you change it, will become your own."

AERO FIRE FIGHTING VARIATIONS IN ORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MISSOULA (Mont.) Feb. 3.—The use of dirigibles as a means of fighting fires, as well as patrolling the government forests, is being investigated by local officials of district No. 1 of the U. S. forest service, it was stated today.

The idea has been suggested that some means be provided for lowering men from the dirigibles to fight the fires, then raising them to go on to the next fire. The ships would co-operate with the scout planes on patrol by the means of radio.

NORTHCLIFFE REBUKES RABID ENGLISH PAPER.

CONDEMNS ANTI-AMERICAN ATTITUDE AND PRAISES LETTER BY GLASS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Scathing rebuke has been administered by Northcliffe's Times to Lord Beaverbrook, whose Daily Express has been conducting a raging anti-American campaign with the collapse of exchanges as a text. The editorial in the Times is entitled "Unreasonable Expectations" and it deals with the whole angle of the American situation in the most moderate and dignified manner.

"The Glass letter is warmly welcomed as a sign of American public opinion," says the editorial, "although we cannot agree with all of Mr. Glass's statements, we cannot deny he has told Europe some home truths. His letter rubs in some unpleasant facts, which we know only too well. The speeches made in the Senate by some well-known enemies of this country do not perturb us. We must expect that sort of thing and take it as a matter of course as we have often done before."

Then follows the direct rebuke to Beaverbrook.

RABID PRESS REBUKED.

"There is only one line of conduct on our part which might play into the hands of our hyphenated enemies and lead to real ill feeling toward us. Nothing could play more directly into the hands of these people than charges of selfishness and bad faith, which have been put forward by some British journals. They would be mischievous from any quarter because as Lord Grey has assured us, they are not true. The evil they do is immensely increased when they are made day after day in a newspaper which is supposed to be closely connected with the Prime Ministry."

The Daily Graphic, which is owned by Berry Bros., leading financiers, who also own a string of other journals, says editorially:

"Carter Glass has done a real service to the world by the straightforward manner in which he condemns all proposals for eleemosynary loans for the benefit of Europe. No amount of distress will justify the financial measures which will tend only to aggrevate the evil they profess to cure."

GLASS IS COMMENDED.

Other newspapers take a similar line, all commending the Glass letter as saying something that needed to be said. The point is made that Great Britain wants no help for herself and is quite capable of coming back unaided and even helping the other European countries, if she thinks it a wise policy.

But the fact is England welcomes the Glass lead in enabling her to take the same attitude toward continental beggars for loans and gifts. She is a heavy creditor in Europe and unwilling, even if able, to increase her commitments. It is generally overlooked that while pounds are cheap in regard to the dollar they are even dearer compared to the franc, lire and other continental currencies.

Anti-Americanism now is extinct in the British press, except for two organs controlled by the demagogue Bottomley and the Canadian, Beaverbrook, both of whom always have been anti-American.

WAR'S LOVE VICTIM WELCOMED BY FRIEND.

EMILY KNOWLES AND HER BABY TO STAY IN FALL RIVER UNTIL WEDDING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FALL RIVER (Mass.) Feb. 3.—Miss Emily Knowles and her 5 months' old son, who were released by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island yesterday, arrived here today, accompanied by Mrs. Cora M. Spiker of Baltimore, wife of the father of the child, and Mrs. Spiker's brother-in-law, Guy S. Spiker, whom Miss Knowles had promised to wed.

Perley R. Spiker of Baltimore, former flying lieutenant, whose romance with Miss Knowles while he was at an aviation camp in England led the young woman to come to this country with her child, was not a member of the party.

The party was greeted by Mrs. William Battersby, with whom Miss Knowles is to make her home, pending her marriage. Mrs. Battersby is an intimate friend of Miss Knowles's family in Manchester, Eng. Mr. Battersby, who is ill, was very friendly in his greeting of the English girl, telling her that his home would be hers as long as she wished.

Marriage-license blanks were filled out today at the City Clerk's office by Miss Knowles and Guy S. Spiker and will be given to them Sunday when the five days' period required by law of nonresidents has been completed. It is expected that they will be married Monday.

The police tonight said they did not intend to question Miss Knowles as to reports that she had been married in England to Perley R. Spiker. Guy Spiker issued a statement denying that there had been any such marriage.

HUGE METEOR FALLS NEAR WYOMING TOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Feb. 3.—Green River, Wyo., had a "wireless" message from another planet Sunday night, according to reports brought here today by railroad men. The message was a huge meteor which dissipated the darkness of the countryside with a brilliant greenish light and buried itself deep in the earth several miles from town.

The meteor left a trail of thick smoke and its path of light was reflected as far east as Cheyenne. Efforts will be made to disinter it, it was said.

TWO TERMS FOR BANDIT GRANEY

Loses New Trial Fight and His Probation to Boot.

Sentenced for Bank Robbery and for "Joy-Riding."

Notice of Appeal is Given by Defense Attorneys.

Donald G. Graney, 21 years old, convicted of attempting to rob Herbert G. Flint, cashier of the Bank of Hynes, yesterday in Judge Willis's court lost his fight for a retrial of his case. Though his attorney, Guy Eddie, endeavored to have the verdict of the jury set aside, Graney was sentenced to San Quentin for half of a life term. The court not only denied a motion for a new trial, but also vacated a previous suspension of a sentence for riding on a public highway in a car not the defendant's. For this latter offense Graney was sentenced to San Quentin for from one year to ten, no mention being made of the two sentences running concurrently.

It developed that thirty-six days after Graney was granted probation for joy-riding he was arrested for participation in the attempted robbery at the Bank of Hynes.

Deputy District Attorney Fricke argued that the defendant should be sentenced for both offenses, in accordance with the purposes of the probation laws.

Mr. Eddie and E. M. Torchia, defense counsel, gave notice of appeal.

During the Graney trial it became known that Mrs. Gwendolyn Marie Booher Graney, wife of the defendant and daughter of Mrs. J. B. Booher, a wealthy Oklahoman, was contemplating a suit for divorce from her bandit husband. Her refusal to allow Graney to hold their 4-months-old baby on his lap during the trial and the announcement of her intentions caused the defense not to call her as a witness in the husband's defense.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

ALL REINSTATED MEN MAY LOSE CITY JOBS.

MORE DEFINITE OPINION ON RESIGNATION CASES TO BE ASKED.

Many city employees may lose their jobs through the opinion of Assistant City Attorney Jess Stephens, to the effect that persons discharged for cause from the city service cannot be restored by action of the commission directly over them and by the approval of the Civil Service Commission, but must seek reinstatement through the regular channels of civil service examination, the same as new applicants.

The commission took under consideration the subject of what its action shall be toward city employees restored to duty after having been dropped for cause, and it also went further. Commissioner MacDonald, who has just been elected president of the commission, expressed the sentiment of that body when he said that the opinion just given would logically lead to the conclusion that when any one's connection with the city service is severed he cannot be restored legally to employment without taking a new civil service examination. It was decided to ask the City Attorney for a definite ruling on this point. Meanwhile Secretary King was instructed to prepare a list of all city employees restored to service either after having been removed for cause or after having resigned.

Should the City Attorney hold that the ruling is also applicable to persons who have resigned and then been restored to service, it is said it will affect many city employees. The result will be, if they desire to continue in the city's service, that they will lose such standing as they may have attained from service, and would have to take a new examination and re-enter the service as first-year employees.

POLICE OFFICER QUITS

Raymond Resigns Due to Attack on Home Over Appointment.

Police Inspector Harry Raymond, secret service operator for Chief of Police George K. Home, yesterday handed his resignation to Chief Home. Mr. Raymond stated that he tendered his resignation because of an attack made on the Chief regarding his appointment. Chief Home accepted the resignation late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Raymond, who has a reputation of being one of the most able detectives and secret service men in the State, has been connected with Chief Home's office since the Chief was appointed by Mayor Snyder. During his connection with the department, Raymond has handled many important cases and was a leader in cleaning the city of radicals and Reds.

Chief Home stated yesterday that Raymond will remain with the department for a few days to clear up several cases now in court.

FOR STREET WORK.

An ordinance was adopted by the City Council yesterday providing for the construction of a series of concrete steps, with concrete railings and curbings, on Waterloo street, between Sunset boulevard and Marathon street, thus giving direct access from the hill region to the car service on Sunset boulevard. The Council also, by ordinance, provided for improvement of Fountain avenue and set March 10 as the time for hearing protests against the improvement of Twelfth street from Bentous to Alvarado streets.

PLEASED WITH JUSTICE HERE.

"Vive l'Amerique," Cry of Frenchman When Cleared of Larceny.

America is a land of freedom and justice, according to Louis Rachu, a Frenchman, who yesterday created considerable excitement in Justice Summerfield's court when he was cleared of a charge of burglary and grand larceny. When he learned that he was free, after being arrested in San Francisco for the alleged theft of a camera belonging to a Japanese, he arose, waved his arms and cried, "Vive l'Amerique."

It was shown that the defendant had received the camera from a prominent Mexican and was endeavoring to find the man to return it, when arrested.

FAIR PRICE INQUIRY DIRECTED AT SHOES.

FEDERAL COMMITTEE ALSO TO LAUNCH CAMPAIGN OF PUBLICITY HERE.

At the meeting of the Federal Fair Price Committee, held in the directors' room in the Realty Board Building last evening, plans were discussed for an investigation of shoe prices. Representative shoe men of Los Angeles will be called before the committee at its next regular meeting tomorrow to testify as to the reasons for the present prices of shoes, and to give the committee data on which to base fair prices.

Shoe prices, however, will not, in all probability, be established by the committee tomorrow, stated W. B. Beirne, executive secretary of the committee, last night, but it is expected that a good working basis, on which the committee can proceed with its work in the establishment of a fair price, will be obtained.

The committee also discussed plans for a widespread publicity campaign through the newspapers, churches and civic organizations of the city, as to the causes of present high prices. It will be the purpose of this campaign to show the consumer how he can help in the reduction of prices by eliminating extravagant buying and by purchasing only what is needed. The campaign, under the supervision of Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman of the Council of Community Service, will be carried on in all quarters of the city through the medium of the district representatives of that organization. Complaints concerning overcharging will be received and presented to the Fair Price Committee.

TWENTY THOUSAND IN DAY GIVEN Y.M.C.A.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TOTAL $94,918 IN TEN-DAY CAMPAIGN FOR $750,000.

The record subscription in the Y.M.C.A. drive for $750,000 was announced yesterday at the noon-day report meeting, in the Central Y.M.C.A. building, 715 South Hope street, where campaign headquarters are being maintained.

During twenty-four hours previous to the luncheon, the workers in the campaign collected a total of $21,795, which brings the total pledges to $94,918.

The high mark was set by the campaign executive committee, headed by Police Commissioner R. T. Burge, general chairman of the campaign, and E. L. Mogge, the director. The committee collected $15,580 during the day.

The reports by divisions follow: Division A, $1182; Division B, $856, and Division C, $295. Hollywood scored a total of $3883 for the day.

The campaign will close at midnight Friday.

"There was no distinction in awarding benefits to the soldiers and sailors by Y.M.C.A. workers," declared C. M. Conant, who spoke before the meeting yesterday. "White and colored soldiers and sailors were treated the same, and creed or sect formed no boundary for Y.M.C.A. work."

Mr. Conant was a regional director in the Y.M.C.A. overseas work.

George E. Reid, vice-president of the Home Savings Bank, presided at the meeting. Other speakers were D. E. Luther and E. G. Judah.

TERROR FOR ACTORS.

Autograph Fiend Haunts Hotel to Collect John Hamaides.

A new one has been discovered. He is Leonard Spillman, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Spillman of Detroit, now at the Alexandria. Leonard has been busy in the lobby of the hotel for the last week collecting the autographs of film stars.

He has two albums full of names from the highest to the ones not so high. He stands alongside of Mr. Montirichards, clerk of the hotel, and as they pass Monti, in true sightseeing style says, "On your left is Mr. F. Tennison Pulbert," and young Leonard runs to get Mr. Pulbert's signature.

Now his brother, Jerome Spillman, has started. He has one book nearly filled and he hopes to complete several volumes before he returns to his home.

TRAIN RIDER MAKES FIRST "DRY" ARREST.

The first arrest by officers riding on the San Diego and Arizona Railway, involving a suspected violation of the national prohibition law, was reported yesterday to Customs Collector Elliott. Customs Inspector J. M. Green took into custody C. D. Martin, head waiter on a dining car, and found in his possession, he states, two quarts of whisky that he is said to have purchased in Tecate, for $16. He was arrested at Campo, and lodged in the San Diego jail.

BURGLAR ESCAPES BUT LEAVES LOOT BEHIND.

Jewelry and money amounting to abqut $800 was the loot left behind by a burglar who was surprised while ransacking the residence of Mrs. A. P. Thompson of 1349 Morgan place early yesterday morning. The intruder, who had the jewelry packed in a suitcase, was surprised by Mrs. Thompson. He hurled the case from a second-story window, then leaped to safety himself. Although the burglar escaped he left all the loot on the front lawn.

FRIENDLY DESPITE SUIT.

Husband and Wife Eat at the Same Table Pending Divorce.

Gordon B. Edwards and his wife, Mabel D. Edwards, are said to occupy the same house and eat at the same table, although Mrs. Edwards is suing for divorce. Yesterday she was in Judge Crail's court asking for temporary alimony. Mr. Edwards told the court that her husband spent money on other girls and gave her only $10 a week for her support. She declared she could not stretch this sum out to meet expenses, and had to borrow money.

The court ordered Mr. Edwards to pay $10 a week and also the rent of the house. This is to continue as long as he receives board and a room at the house. Mrs. Edwards received the custody of her child. Mr. Edwards is charged by his wife with cruelty.

YOUNG SPEEDERS HIT.

Refund of Bail Forfeited by Youth is Opposed.

Juveniles who persistently violate the speed laws and then seek immunity because of their age, were given a rap at yesterday's session of the City Council. George T. Duncan, who says he is only 17 years old, asked for the return of $10 forfeited in Police Judge Chesebro's court when he did not appear to answer to a charge of speeding. The Council asked for a statement of facts from the court. When it came from the clerk of Judge Chesebro's court to the Finance Committee of the Council, the statement was to the effect that young Duncan had been arrested for driving at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour through the Third-street tunnel. Clerk Johnston said:

"I don't believe defendant is entitled to a refund, as he was guilty of violating the speed ordinance and has received no punishment. There is no evidence before our court that the defendant is not over 18 years of age. We have quite a number of juveniles who are habitual violators of our traffic ordinances, and endeavor to escape punishment by claiming to be juveniles."

MUSICAL.
IN MODERN DOMAIN.

OBERHOFFER'S EVENING CONCERT ROUSES FINE RESPONSE.

By Jeanne Redman.

A modern programme given by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra last evening at Trinity Auditorium roused the large audience to almost unrestrained response. Oberhoffer played, with one exception, the works of our contemporaries; of men who speak, emotionally, our language and who share our general philosophies of life. Rachmaninoff's Symphony in E Minor evoked all the fire and poetry of the conductor, and the finale, Allegro Vivace, brought back to him a wealth of applause. The work is glorified with many Slav rhythms and much varied tone-coloring, and it is candid and vehement in expression. The usual cleverness of orchestration is also manifest.

The prelude to "The Afternoon of a Faun," a work which is surely one of the loveliest of modern programme pieces and rapidly becoming one of the most widely-popular, was particularly charming, because of the excellent quality of Oberhoffer's woodwinds and his solo instruments. He plays the prelude rather more slowly than we are accustomed to hear it, but the fantastic mood is retained throughout.

Ravel's Spanish Rhapsody was a delight. It was most vividly played, and it is from the pen of the man who will most probably prove his possession of the best musical brain among modern French composers. Ravel has not only fantasy and charm; he has the gift for character-sketching a people and of creating an atmosphere. Oberhoffer inspired his men with a fine abandon in the last movement which brought him round after round of applause, which the orchestra rose to share.

The overture to Wagner's "Mastersingers" concluded the programmme. It is a work of such rare fineness, of a concentration so complete and pure that it carries it the very essence of the opera, certainly one of Wagner's greatest, in its majestic phrases. The brasses were especially striking. Oberhoffer, without score, threw himself into this last performance of a day of two symphonic concerts with a masterful vigor.

CONCERT AT SANTA BARBARA.

A very pleasing concert was presented yesterday at Santa Barbara by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Adolf Tandler. A large audience, composed of a number of prominent eastern visitors, attended. Desider Vecsei was the soloist. The programme follows: First Symphony (Winter Day-Dreams) (Tschaikowsky;) concerto for piano with orchestra in A Minor, (Schumann;) "Fireworks," Fantasie, (Stravinsky;) and comedy overture, "La Baruffe Chiozotte," (Sinigaglia.)

SAYS SOCIALIST SPAT ON AMERICA'S BANNER.

GIRL GIVES DAMAGING TESTIMONY IN TRIAL OF UNSEATED ASSEMBLYMEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY, Feb. 3.—Charles Solomon, one of the Socialist Assemblymen suspended for alleged disloyalty, spat on the American flag at a recruiting meeting in Brooklyn in 1917, according to testimony given at the Socialists' trial today by Miss Ellen R. Chivers, an 18-year-old stenographer of New York.

Solomon committed this act, she said, after he had refused to give up for recruiting purposes a Socialist platform erected for electioneering, remarking that the gutter was good enough for the recruiting party.

The girl, who said she had witnessed the incidents she had described, said she had written of them to Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, who initiated the ouster movement. There was a burst of applause when she said she had done so because she considered it the duty of every American to report such incidents.

An article by Eugene V. Debs, dealing with the McNamara dynamiting cases, was read into the record today at the trial. This article was interpreted by Peter W. Collins of Boston, a Knights of Columbus worker, who qualified as a union-labor expert, as justifying slaying of men in industrial disputes. Collins also testified to the belief that Socialists sought to "capture" trade unionism as a step toward forceful overthrow of the pillars of society.

BANKER AIDS IN CENSUS FINALE.

R. B. Hardacre Co-operating to Assure Full Count.

Will be Sworn in as Member of Supervisor's Staff.

Chamber of Commerce Calls on Employers for Help.

R. B. Hardacre, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, yesterday placed his business activities and knowledge of the community at the disposal of Census Supervisor Dodson, to assure that the most complete census count possible shall be secured in this city. Mr. Hardacre will be sworn in as a member of the Los Angeles census staff and will work actively in Mr. Dodson's office.

His action is the result of the conference held by the Mayor, President McFie of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Dodson and representatives of various civic organizations the day before yesterday. At that time it was shown that there is need in the interests of the public for whole-hearted co-operation by all public-spirited citizens in the census "clean-up," the clean-up, by which it is designed to find and count every single person missed during the enumerators' initial canvass, may consume until the census supervisor is satisfied that the enumeration is complete. An indefinite extension of time has been made by the Census Bureau at Washington because of requests from many considerable municipalities throughout the country that the count has been inadequate.

The assurances that the data secured will be promptly acted upon at the census office here, the Chamber of Commerce is bending every effort to complete the recheck by which it is endeavoring to find every person who has not so far been listed by the census takers. When such people are found, they are reported to Mr. Dodson's office, and are counted by enumerators as quickly thereafter as possible.

In this work the chamber needs the more conversant than it has been able to secure, even through urgent appeals that business firms release for a few days the services of their employees. This appeal was strongly renewed yesterday. The chamber thinks that every public-spirited employer in Los Angeles should spare at least one employee to work on the census. More than 300 city precincts have yet to be canvassed and there is every reason to rush the work as much as possible. To this end it is asked that any person

CLOUDBURST FILLS CANYON.

Sheet of Water Swamps Ham Gulch; Ranch Residents are Marooned.

Rushing flood waters which swept through San Dimas Canyon yesterday afternoon threatened for a time to do great damage, but subsided before any large amount of property had suffered. The flood was the first result of last summer's forest fires.

Shortly after 3 p.m. Ham Canyon, a small branch of San Dimas Canyon, was visited by a cloudburst and for twenty minutes a sheet of water swirled through the mountain passes. Ham Canyon is eight miles north of Pomona. Within a few minutes the waters had filled the San Dimas Wash and carried with them large quantities of earth. Most of the damage was confined to Highland Home ranch. Residents at Laurette ranch were marooned all afternoon by the flood.

On Mt. Baldy three inches of snow were registered and in San Antonio Canyon the rainfall was .41 of an inch.

FOR DUNHAM ESTATE.

Receiver Named; Deed to Fifth Wife is Involved.

Judge Jackson yesterday appointed Willard L. Goodwin, receiver for the property of Col. Edward L. Dunham, former hotel proprietor and friend of the late President McKinley. Recently Attorney F. W. Morrison was appointed guardian for Col. Dunham.

At this hearing, before Judge Valentine, it developed that Col. Dunham had been married five times. It was declared that, while he lay ill at a hospital, he deeded property valued at $25,000 to Mrs. Dunham, his fifth wife, and it was alleged that at that time he was not competent to make the deed. A suit is pending to set aside the deed. The estate is valued at about $300,000, the income from which is $350 a month.

FRAUD CHARGED.

M. Campau, formerly a buyer for the Associated Fruit Company, was arrested yesterday by Constable Thomas on a charge of defrauding the company out of a consignment of raisins valued at $351. He was arraigned in justice court and furnished bail of $500.

MEDICAL TWIST IS SURPRISING.

Mrs. Thorkildsen's Lawyers in Unexpected Action.

Depositions of Physicians and Nurses Admitted.

Tell of a Delicate Operation Before Her Marriage.

The big legal fight which centered on the admissibility of the depositions of the physician who operated on Mrs. Selina Livingston Thorkildsen in 1913 when she was Miss Livingston, and of the nurse who attended her at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, took an unexpected turn yesterday afternoon. Judge Works ruled that the deposition of the nurse was admissible on the ground that the statute referred only to the evidence of physicians and surgeons as being privileged because of their confidential relations with their clients and did not specify nurses. He ruled that at this stage he would hold the operating physician's evidence was not admissible, but argument could be made when his deposition is offered.

BEGINNING OF FIGHT.

The reading of the deposition of Blanche Baker, the nurse, was followed by the announcement from Bradner W. Lee that Mrs. Thorkildsen's attorneys would waive their objections to the reading of Dr. Albert E. Halstead's deposition, and those of Nurse Jones and Interne Gunn. One of Mrs. Thorkildsen's attorneys said:

"This is the beginning of the fight."

Nurse Baker's deposition was peppered with objections and motions to strike by Attorney Kenyon Lee and considerable testimony was struck out. She said she learned the nature of the operation on Miss Livingston from other parties.

Dr. Halstead, one of the leading physicians of Chicago, testified that he first saw Miss Livingston in a flat on the north side. He made a physical examination of her and advised immediate removal to St. Luke's Hospital. He said she had a high temperature, with recurrent pains on the right side and pain all over the abdomen. She was very ill. He described his diagnosis at that time.

DESCRIBES CONDITION.

Miss Livingston was taken to the hospital and operated on the following morning. Dr. Halstead described her condition as he found it after an examination there and the results of the operation, which was of a delicate character.

Mrs. Thorkildsen had previously testified that only her appendix had been removed at the operation. The testimony of the physician showed that the operation went much further, and the details cannot well be printed.

During the reading of the depositions Dr. Andrew S. Lobingier sat with Mrs. Thorkildsen's counsel. It is probable he will be called by Mrs. Thorkildsen as an expert witness.

WILSHIRE HOTEL TO OPEN IN NOVEMBER.

VERNON GOODWIN BACK AFTER PLACING ORDERS IN EAST FOR EQUIPMENT.

With new ideas for the operation of his three hotels, the Alexandria, the Ambassador of Los Angeles, now building, and the Ambassador of Santa Barbara, Vernon Goodwin arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to resume active management of the western division of the Ambassador Hotels System. Mr. Goodwin has been in the East for three weeks in consultation with the S. W. Straus Company, owners of the chain.

According to plans announced yesterday by Mr. Goodwin, the new Ambassador on Wilshire boulevard will be completed by November 1 and will be in operation for the coming season. It will be an all-year round hostelry. The proposed $100,000 improvements in the Alexandria will be started at once, it is stated, as the plans have been approved by the officials of the company.

While in the East, Mr. Goodwin placed the orders for all the equipment of the new hotel. He spent a few days in Chicago and New York and at the Ambassador at Atlantic City, where a big addition to the present building is being made. It is the purpose of Mr. Goodwin to incorporate all the improvements of the eastern hotels in the new Ambassador here.

"After I passed Flagstaff, I found the whole East under a mantle of snow," said Mr. Goodwin yesterday. "People are thinking about Los Angeles more and more. 'Westward the star of empire takes its way' is becoming a truelsm more now than in the past."

FAILS TO CONVICT.

Third Jury in Henderson Bribery Case Reports Disagreement.

The third jury to try George Henderson, negro politician, on the charge of bribery, was discharged by Judge Houser late last night, when the talesmen reported they could not agree. After five hours' deliberation, the jury reported that it stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction. The court sent them out for further deliberation, but again the jury reported at 9:45 o'clock last night that it stood eight to four.

Henderson was charged with trying to buy protection for the gambling interests. The first jury convicted him, and the second jury disagreed. The members of the third jury were Mrs. Maud M. Keck, Mrs. Carrie Foulke, Mrs. Beatrice Duane, Mrs. F. S. Purdy, Mrs. Kate C. Kratz, Mrs. Ollie Hathaway, Mrs. George Wadleigh, Mrs. W. C. Earl, W. Y. Rowland, Theodore Silver, Christopher Bruckman and Albert A. Hall.

ROMANCE STIRS SOCIAL STORM.

J. P. Morgan's Grandson Weds Los Angeles Beauty.

Eloping Lieutenant Disowned by Rich Parents.

Met Divorcee When She was "Paris Sensation."

An amazing tale of romance and adventures on the social sea came to light here yesterday with the news of the elopement and marriage at Portsmouth, N. H., Monday, of Mrs. Gertrude Wenzlick, noted Los Angeles beauty, and Laurenz Morgan Hamilton, grandson of the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

Mrs. Hamilton was the first wife of George Wenzlick, of this city, who is now residing at the Ryan Hotel, 815 West Sixth street. The great financier's grandson is her third husband and is only 20 years old. His Los Angeles bride is 34 years of age—and therein lies the chief objection of young Hamilton's very wealthy parents to the marriage. The boy's father is William Pierson Hamilton, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and the family is directly descended from Alexander Hamilton.

The parents of the groom say that unless he renounces his bride they will have nothing to do with him and that he will be compelled to earn his own living and lose hope of falling heir to a vast estate. There has yet been no reconciliation between parents and son, and Mr. and Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton have stated no reconciliation will take place so long as he remains with his bride.

MET BRIDE IN PARIS.

Young Hamilton is now a lieutenant on the staff of Gen. Edwards in Boston. He told reporters in Boston yesterday that he met his bride in Paris while he was serving on the staff of Brig.-Gen. W. W. Harts. At that time, according to information gathered by investigators for the youth's parents, the new Mrs. Hamilton was generally known as "the sensation of Paris." A young overseas veteran, who called on her at her Paris apartments, told how he found Mrs. Hamilton's Paris home in the fashionable district near the Arc de Triomphe.

"When I called, Mrs. Hamilton, who was then known as Mrs. Warren, appeared, gorgeously gowned," said the overseas soldier in a letter he wrote to friends. "The apartment walls were hung with tapestries, the rugs were the thickest and finest, and the furniture was massive and evidently expensive. I saw a reception room, parlor, library and bedroom from my seat and judged the apartment must include about ten rooms. Later I was told that Mrs. Warren was the sensation of Paris. My visit was terminated by the arrival of two American officers and a French girl, who were to be guests at dinner. Mrs. Warren remarked that chicken was to be the chief dish—and chicken at that time in Paris was $6 a pound."

Prior to taking up her residence in Paris and following her divorce from George Wenzlick in this city in 1909, Mrs. Hamilton toured the world extensively. In New York, she occupied a suite in the Ritz-Carlton. In Genoa she was acclaimed the most beautiful woman in the American colony there.

EX-HUSBAND'S STORY.

For the first time, Mr. Wenzlick, who is now associated with a film corporation in this city, told yesterday of what he knows of the past life of his former wife.

"The present Mrs. Hamilton was formerly Miss Gertrude Trick, of St. Louis, step-daughter of the former superintendent of construction for Anheuser-Busch," said Mr. Wenzlick yesterday.

"She was just 18 when I was a salesman for Anheuser-Busch. I married her in 1905 and two years later she was acclaimed one of the most beautiful women in America in a popular beauty contest in St. Louis.

"When I married her she was a diamond in the rough—very attractive, but lacking in social culture. I gave her daily instruction how to walk gracefully, how to keep her finger nails beautiful, how to wear beautiful clothes. In 1908 we came to Los Angeles. In 1909, after spending a small fortune my mother left me, I decided I could not furnish her with the expensive things she craved, so I sued for a divorce.

MASKED BEAUTY.

"She then filed a cross-complaint against me, which I did not contest, and she was granted a divorce from me. We always remained on friendly terms after the divorce until she vanished from the Pacific Coast about 1912. I just figured that she had left in quest of the finer and more costly things of life, which I was unable to furnish her. The news of her recent marriage has convinced me that she has attained that goal which she has been seeking so long."

About ten years ago Mrs. Hamilton, who was then Mrs. Wenzlick, received considerable notoriety in San Francisco by being revealed as "the masked beauty." In that year a very attractive horsewoman rode daily through Golden Gate Park, her face concealed by a silken mask. When arrested she stated that she masked her face to hide her beauty from mashers who continually annoyed her.

SURVIVOR OF SUSSEX.

Regarding Mrs. Hamilton's second husband, little is known. Several years after her divorce from Wenzlick, she was known as Mrs. Gregory Warren, the wife of a British army officer. Wenzlick said yesterday he has never heard of Gregory Warren, but in the list of survivors of the British steamer Sussex, which was sunk early in the war in the English Channel, the name of Mrs. Gertrude Warren, St. Louis, appears. In Paris, Hamilton's bride told friends that Mr. Warren was then in London.

STERN CONDITIONS FOR MRS. TUTHILL.

COURT GRANTS PROBATION TO WOMAN TAKEN WITH PASADENA TEACHER.

Making stern conditions, Judge Willis yesterday released Mrs. Elena Tuthill, who pleaded guilty to a statutory offense, on probation of four years. Remarking that the case was on the border line and not really one for probation, the court fixed the following conditions:

Mrs. Tuthill must not communicate with Gray T. Sampson, former Pasadena music teacher, who was arrested after escaping from her apartments, now in San Quentin prison. She must not communicate with him directly or indirectly during the term of her probation.

She must not "go out" with men except relatives, until after she and her husband are divorced.

She must seek and retain a job.

She must report to the probation officer every two weeks.

She must not leave Los Angeles county without permission of the probation officer or the court.

The judge said that he would write to the warden at San Quentin and if Mrs. Tuthill communicated with Sampson, he would call her in and send her to prison as well.

WIFE'S WORK AT HOME, DIVORCE JUDGE SAYS.

DECLARES IT'S DANGEROUS TO FAMILY FOR WOMAN TO EARN LIVING.

The trial of the divorce suit of Dr. L. E. Wyckoff against Dr. Grace Wyckoff in Judge Crail's court yesterday, where both were denied decrees, caused the court to declare:

"It is dangerous to the family for the wife to leave home and try to earn a living or any part of the living. It frequently ends in a family break-up.

"In this case the woman tried to help earn the family living and she tried to run her home. She was overworked and irritable. Her husband was working hard and came to a home where the wife had been working hard, and it was not the kind of a home that a hard-working man should have in order to be happy. Trouble came because his wife's mind was on business and on things other than having the home comfortable and pleasant for him."

The judge said this was a case where the litigants might become reconciled, but not while their health is run down.

Mrs. Wyckoff testified her husband told her he was tired of her.

"I told him he only saw me work, not at play, and that we would be happier if he would take me on pleasure trips," she said.

REFUSES TO DISMISS SYNDICALISM CASES.

COURT WON'T RELEASE THREE WHO TRY TO MAKE USE OF TECHNICALITY.

Stating that ample opportunity was given Charles Gallwey, Thomas Webber and Carl Miller, accused of criminal syndicalism, to go to trial the day their cases were originally set, Judge Willis yesterday denied a motion to dismiss the cases because they had not been brought to trial within sixty days of the arrests. S. G. Pandit, attorney for the defendants, stated the men had not desired a continuance, but the court minutes showed they asked for one so that another attorney, then in Oakland, might come here to aid in their defense.

The motion to dismiss was opposed by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Doran and Deputies Fricke and Powell. The court ordered that the defendants, who interrupted the proceedings several times to talk, shall appear for trial on March 11, the date recently set.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP.

Wilson Pardons Secretary of Los Angeles Investment Company.

William D. Deeble, former secretary of the Los Angeles Investment Company, who was sent to the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, October 20, 1917, to serve thirteen months and pay a fine of $5000 for having used the mails to defraud stockholders of the company, was yesterday restored to full citizenship through a pardon from President Wilson.

The Executive order was secured by Congressman Kettner. Deeble has been residing in San Diego since his release from prison early in 1919. Charles A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company; George M. Derby, its treasurer, and William D. Deeble were arrested early in 1913 on a Federal warrant charging use of the mails to defraud clients and stockholders.

They were convicted July 30, 1915, by a jury in Judge Bledsoe's court here. Elder was sentenced to serve fifteen months, and each of the others was sent to prison for thirteen months. Each of the three was to pay a $5000 fine. All of them have served their time and been released, but Deeble is the first to regain his citizenship.

DAMAGE ACTION CAPS JEWEL ROBBERY CASE.

ORCHARDS, C. E. SEBASTIAN AND LLOYD'S ARE SUED BY CLEARED SUSPECT.

The sensational jewel robbery at the home of Mrs. Lucille Orchard at the Murry Apartments several months ago, followed by the arrest of Paul E. Kirsten, charged with burglary, and by his subsequent release when Mrs. Orchard failed to identify him as one of the burglars, resulted yesterday in Mr. Kirsten filing a suit for $25,250 damages for malicious prosecution.

The defendants named are Elbert O. Orchard, Lucille Orchard, C. E. Sebastian and Lloyd's of London. Mr. Sebastian, it is charged, appeared before Justice Summerfield last January 3 and there accused Mr. Kirsten of having broken into the Orchard home. It is asserted that Mr. Sebastian was in the employ of the defendants and acted with their consent or authority.

Mr. Kirsten was arrested at San Francisco, where he was employed by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. He was put in jail there, then brought to Los Angeles and put in jail here. January 5 the charge against him was dismissed in Justice Summerfield's court.

Because of the wide publicity given to his arrest, Mr. Kirsten said, he lost his position and was injured in his good name. He is represented by Attorney Wackerbarth.

RAILROAD MUST PAY.

Department Two, District Court of Appeal, yesterday affirmed the judgment of the local Superior Court, finding for the Pacific Heater Company, for $927.50, the value of fifty-three gas furnaces damaged by the Southern Pacific, while in transit from Los Angeles to Portland.

MAKE CAMPAIGN PLANS.

Women Meet and Arrange Details of Y.W.C.A. Fund Drive.

With a hundred county representatives, from seventy-five towns of Los Angeles county present, a conference was held yesterday at the Y.W.C.A. headquarters to make plans for the national campaign for funds, which will open February 16.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, presiding chairman, presented Miss Mary Bentley, executive secretary of the Pacific Coast field, who spoke on the work of the Y.W.C.A. among its girls and women.

"This campaign is a very necessary one," declared Miss Bentley. "for now that the world war is over, and the men are resuming their work, it is the duty of the Y.W.C.A. to enable the girls and women, who, during the war, held these positions, to find themselves in the professional world."

Mrs. Chester C. Ashley, campaign director for Southern California, declared "a national organization of women for women is one that needs the support of all the women."

JOE CRAIL WILL WED BAY BELLE.

Republican Leader Betrothed to Berkeley Girl.

Ceremony Next Week at Home of the Bride-Elect.

Romance Began Here at Ball for Secretary Daniels.

Joe Crail, twin brother of Superior Judge Charles Crail—attorney, widely known Republican and executive of the G.O.P. in Southern California—will marry Miss Gladys Schmidt, a belle of the San Francisco Bay region, next Tuesday evening at the home of the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of 1541 Henry street, Berkeley.

The romance that will culminate in the nuptials began when Mr. Crail and Miss Schmidt met at the banquet and ball given last August at the Jonathan Club for the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels. It was a case of love at first sight, say friends who should know.

The bride-elect is a niece of Mrs. Frank D. Owen of Rockwood street, whom she has visited often and where she was visiting when she and Mr. Crail met. Mrs. Owen, by the way, is the twin sister of Miss Schmidt's father, and one of Los Angeles' successful business women.

Miss Schmidt is an accomplished musician. She sings and plays delightfully. Her education was received at Miss Head's fashionable School for Girls in Berkeley and at Mills College. She is considered one of the most beautiful girls in the bay region and one of the most popular.

Mr. Crail is the chairman of the southern division of the California State Central Committee and has for a number of years been prominently identified with Republican activities here. He is, besides, widely known in club and in legal circles.

At the wedding, which is set for 3 o'clock, Miss Schmidt will wear a handsome gown of white satin and priceless old lace. Her long tulle veil will be crowned with orange blossoms and her shower bouquet will be of orchids. Miss Emma Hahn will be the maid of honor and will wear a frock of pale blue silk and chiffon. Her bouquet will be of long-stemmed pink roses. Miss Ethelwin Conrey of Los Angeles is to play the wedding music.

Judge and Mrs. Crail will go north to be present at the wedding of their brother and Mrs. Frank D. Owen is also to witness the ceremony. They will all leave here Sunday.

AT BRANCH LIBRARY.

As an added attraction at the Lincoln Heights branch of the public library, a number of paintings by William Wendt, the California artist, are now being shown. The paintings include several snow scenes done recently in the East, as well as Mr. Wendt's interpretations of the beauty of Southern California.

RODMAN FACING THIRD CHARGE.

Globe Company Head Accused of Insurance Fraud.

Already Held on Complaints Alleging Embezzlement.

Total Bail Eleven Thousand; He's Waiting in Jail.

Charges that James S. Rodman, president of the Globe Company of Los Angeles, made false proof of loss in a claim on an insurance policy are contained in a complaint issued yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Clark. This is the third complaint filed against Rodman; the other two charge embezzlement.

This third complaint, signed by Detective Bean of the police arson squad, accuses Rodman of "presenting false proof in support of a claim upon a policy of insurance, a felony." According to the allegations, Rodman on or about October 9, 1919, contracted with the Great American Insurance Company of New York, through the local agents, for insurance on the premises and contents of the offices occupied by the Globe Company of Los Angeles at 132 North Broadway, insuring from loss by fire various presses, machinery, implements, type, supplies and sundries. The machinery, presses and fixtures were valued by Rodman in the policy at $3000, the type, electrotypes, cuts, etc., at $6000, and the various stocks and supplies at $1000. There was a fire in the plant November 10.

The complaint charges that the losses covered by the insurance policy were "in truth instead of $7131.44" as given in one list submitted, only a "real loss of not more than $2000;" that the items totaled on another list as $5297.32 were not over $1500 and those in another list given as $6280.50 were in truth not over $750.

The original claim of loss and lists are attached to the complaint.

Rodman was arraigned before Justice Hanby, who fixed bail on this charge at $5000, making a total of $11,000 necessary for the accused to gain his liberty pending hearing of his cases in Justice Court. He was committed to the County Jail in lieu of bail. His hearing in the last case was set for Monday.

HUGE INCREASE IN CRIME HERE.

Official Report Shows Past Seven Months' Misdeeds Equal Former Year's.

Pointing out the unusual increase in crime in Los Angeles county during the past seven months, G. W. Tedford of the District Attorney's office yesterday reported to Dist.-Atty. Woolwine that, during that period, 1224 complaints have been issued against a total of about 1500 defendants. This, it was shown, equals the entire number issued in the twelve months preceding. Some of the complaints bear as many as three or four persons' names.

Commenting on the situation, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine said he is at a loss to account for the increase in crime, but that he knows he and all his deputies "are rushed to death and have much more work than they can handle conveniently."

BROKER ACCUSED OF ASSAULT UPON GIRL

PRISONER IN HIS HOME TILL SHE ESCAPED IN SCANTY ATTIRE, SHE SAYS.

Charged with having assaulted Violet Gibbons, 19 years of age, and with having forced her to flee in scanty attire from his residence at 2248 South Harvard boulevard, H. B. Rich, an investment broker, was arrested yesterday by Constable Thomas. Rich was arraigned before Justice Hanby, on a complaint issued by Deputy District Attorney Dennison.

The young woman, who gave her address as 5055 Meridian street, said she was taken to Rich's home at 2 o'clock one afternoon and was held practically a prisoner until 7 o'clock in the evening. While she was there, she said, there was much whisky in evidence. She asserts she was assaulted and fled from the house nearly naked, going to Juvenile Hall, where she was given proper clothing.

Rich's bail was fixed at $1000. He went to the County Jail while bonds were being provided and was then released. His hearing was set for tomorrow before Justice Hanby.

REALTY MAN HELD.

Rueben Schiever, a former real estate and oil broker, was ordered held yesterday by Justice Summerfield on a fugitive warrant charging the embezzlement of $2000 on a land deal at Seattle. Bail was fixed at $1500. The defendant was arrested by Detectives Bean and Smith.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

For Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. John Percival Jones, who is a house guest of Mrs. Hancock Banning, is to be the motif for a tea on Friday at which Mrs. William de Mille is to assemble a coterie of friends. Mrs. Banning and a few others are to assist.

Wedding Guests Arriving.

Out-of-town guests for the Fyfe-Spearman wedding, which is to take place Saturday evening at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Hollywood, are arriving. Col. and Mrs. Edwin Francis Holmes, who have been at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco all winter, are to be here for the affair and will go over to the Maryland Hotel in Pasadena to stay.

Baroness von Behrens and her niece, Miss Josephine Ross, who is to be maid of honor, are arriving from Santa Barbara. Others coming from Santa Barbara are Mrs. William F. Fox, grandmother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Henry B. Black, an aunt, and Miss Adele Fox, and Spalding Black. Thomas Clark Spearman, a brother of the groom-elect, is to arrive tomorrow from Oklahoma, and William de Koch of Santa Clara College is coming to be best man.

Miss Elizabeth Fletcher Fyfe, the bride-to-be, is a niece of Mrs. Black of Santa Barbara, with whom she has made her home, and because of the serious illness of Mr. Black the wedding is to be held here. Frank Hamilton Spearman, Jr., the groom-elect, is the son of Frank Hamilton Spearman, the author, of Hollywood.

Mrs. Drake's Luncheon Postponed.

On account of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Kemmler, who has just arrived from New York, the luncheon that Mrs. Charles Rivers Drake was to have given today at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, has been postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. Rothwell.

Mr. Walter Henry Rothwell, director of the Philharmonic Orchestra, and Mrs. Rothwell, who arrived from New York Monday, have taken a house at Winona boulevard, Hollywood.

By Mrs. Mel.

Mrs. John Mel is to preside at a luncheon tomorrow at her home in West Adams Gardens.

Entertained in Paris.

Mrs. Charles Jeffras (formerly a Red Cross worker) and her cousin, Miss Mary Stewart Claflin of New York, have been enjoying a round of brilliant society functions while in Paris. They have been staying at the villa of Duchess de la Rochefaucauld, just outside of Paris, in luxurious style, and have been given a royal time by the Duchess, whose husband is head of the leading family of France. Many Los Angeles folk remember the Duchess when she was Mattie Mitchell of Washington, a belle in her day and daughter of the late U. S. Senator Mitchell of Oregon. At present Mrs. Jeffras and her cousin are at Monte Carlo. The transportation department of the Red Cross of France has offered Mrs. Jeffras motor cars to take her anywhere she wishes and so she has offered to decorate the graves of all Los Angeles soldiers whose parents will write her and tell her where the son or relative is buried. Letters should be sent to Morgan, Harges & Co., bankers at Paris. Maj. Robertson is chief of the transportation department of the Red Cross in France and Mr. Clark of Boston is assistant. They have promised to take Mrs. Jeffras wherever she wishes to go in France, being amply supplied with funds. Mrs. Jeffras will sail for America next month.

To Santa Barbara.

A coterie of Los Angeles folk motored to Santa Barbara yesterday for the concert of the Los Angeles Symphony given there. All were entertained at functions before and after the programme. With Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, president of the orchestra, were Mrs. C. Q. Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., who were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Thorne at Montecito.

After the concert Mr. and Mrs. Thorne gave a supper party, other Los Angeles guests including Dr. and Mrs. Norman Bridge, Mrs. Kate Moore, Mrs. A. C. Bilicke, Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Tandler, Judge and Mrs. Oscar Tripp and Edward G. Kuster, Dr. and Mrs. Rae Smith, with Dr. Alexis Kall and Desidier Vecsei, motored up for the concert and were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Graves, who entertained before and after the concert, which was held at the Potter Theater.

Told at Tea.

Over the tea cups announcement was made yesterday of the engagement of Miss Mary Alice Lanigan and Mr. Douglas Charles Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sweet of Hollywood. Miss Lanigan is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Lanigan, who presided at the tea, a valentine affair at which there were twenty guests. Mrs. T. H. Seymour and Mrs. W. H. Sweet assisted. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Sweet gave a supper-dance at their Hollywood home for the young people, entertaining sixty-five guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosier.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Mosier of 55 Fremont place will regret to learn that their son, Martin Henry Mosier, Jr., who severely injured his spine while a student at Cornell University, has not improved under the care of New York specialists. His parents have chartered a car and with doctors and nurses are returning home. They expect to arrive in Los Angeles Saturday.

Dancing Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Baker of 2432 South Figueroa street entertained 200 guests at a dancing party. The ballroom and dining-rooms were lavishly decorated in acacia blooms and pink carnations with an abundance of palms and ferns. Miss Ruth Bressen, Miss Mabel Burch, Miss Katheryn Giddings and Miss Gladys Blackwell furnished a delightful programme of music. Little Miss Jean Cameron gave a reading. Refreshments were served in the blue room of the Baker apartment hotel, where the dance was given.

HIRING A SUBSTITUTE.

The other day a Los Angeles man paid a bootlegger $65 for a quart bottle of prune juice and capsicum. At this rate a thirsty man will have to work more than eight hours a day in order to keep pace with the high cost of living.

SHERLOCK HOLMES.

The evidence in the case consisted of a button from a woman's cloak found in the bottom of Friend Husband's motor car shortly after his return home at 3 o'clock in the morning. That ought to be enough to not only start a divorce suit, but a moving-picture show.

A PEACE FLEET.

One thousand ships of all kinds is the peace-time programme of the United States Navy Department. This includes about fifty massive dreadnaughts and cruisers. If it is going to take a thousand vessels to guard the nation in time of peace it is time we broke into the Big League and put an end to war talk.

THE SKIN GAME.

Over $4,000,000 worth of pelts were sold on the first day of the winter sale of the Fur Exchange in St. Louis. There were about fifteen thousand sealskins in the lot and they brought nearly $175 a pelt. Looks as if it would cost a lot to keep the wife warm next summer. Seal and bareskin form a costly combination.

THE PENSIONERS.

There are about 200 ex-Cabinet ministers in Spain and each one receives an annual pension of 7000 pesetas a year. Sometimes a Spanish Cabinet will last but a few days, but the members go on the life pension roll just the same. Popular objection is beginning to rise, however, and the pension system may go into the discard.

OVER THE MOVIES.

Some of the screen impressarios object to the use of the word "movies" in connection with their industry—or rather art. It sounds too common and plebeian. They might consent to the use of cinema, but nothing less. That's what they say. But they will have a hard time breaking the plumber, the iceman, the stenographer and the tailor of the habit of going to the movies and calling it just that. It was a word that made itself and it is hard to unscramble it. It will serve until the masses find something shorter and blunter.

THE OPPOSITION.

Senator Sherman, who was some time ago reported as gladly and gracefully approaching retirement, is now busily engaged in planning a campaign to succeed himself. For the last few years Senator Sherman has been behaving much like a common scold. He has been chiefly known for his determined opposition to everything under the sun. He has denounced everything from the League of Nations down to last year's almanac. Being bitterly opposed to everything, he need not wonder at the opposition which is rising against himself. But the Senator can be relied upon to conscientiously oppose any opponents who arise in opposition to him. That is what he is here for.

PAPER EXCESSES.

While the Senate was wrangling over the use of paper by American publishers Senator Smoot appeared with a volume that could not be carried in a wheelbarrow. It was a compilation of the more than seven million words wasted by the Senators in debating the League of Nations and sent to voters all over the country as printed in the Congressional Record. As an illustration of paper extravagance it was complete. Senator Sherman, who also has his sane moments, said that the mass of departmental mail sent out from Washington was so vast that the average country editor couldn't handle his share without having a private secretary. As it was, almost all of it went directly to the waste basket. In the matter of paper waste the government is indeed the greatest offender in the world. The publisher gets paid for his in one way or another, but the government doesn't—that is, to any material extent.

STIRRING STRIFE.

There is no cause for any ill feeling between England and America and there is every reason imaginable for a close fraternity of English-speaking peoples. There would be today but for those who are fighting the League covenant and at the same time forming an entangling alliance of their own by supporting the Sinn Fein rebellion. As has been stated by Mr. Taft, the bulk of the English people thought that when the President signed the peace treaty that settled it as far as the American people were concerned. Since that time the Senate has spent months in repudiating a partnership which included England, and many harsh and unkind words have been spoken concerning Great Britain. It is small wonder that many of the English people should indicate some resentment, and it is unfortunate that there are American newspapers and politicians who would fan this resentment into a flame. They're a fine lot of peace promoters!

THE TWO GREAT CONVENTIONS.

Conventions will be held in a number of Southern States during the month of February for the election of delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions. The campaign workers for the candidates who have already announced themselves have invaded the South in great numbers; and the scramble for delegations has begun. Conditions are more chaotic in February in both political parties than in any other convention year of recent memory. No candidate in either party can be said to have a commanding lead; there is no favorite against the field; and present prospects are that few of the delegations from the Southern States will be instructed by their party conventions in the choice of candidates.

Eight years ago the fight for delegates between Taft and Roosevelt and between Clark and Wilson began with the party conventions in the South and continued unabated until the last Presidential primary was held. This year it is different. The Democrats are hopelessly divided. The President's health and the third-term inhibition are sufficient to keep the conventions from instructing for Wilson; the South is weary of fighting losing battles behind Bryan; the Democrats have been forced reluctantly to admit that Hoover is a Republican; and the new crop of Democratic near-leaders is decidedly unpromising. So the delegates chosen at the Democratic conventions in the South will not give much of a line on the party's choice for a Presidential nominee.

In the Republican ranks a still greater confusion exists. Champ Clark has already said that the Republican party has a bumper crop of second-rate candidates. It is but natural that the Democratic House leader should view the Republican aspirants with contempt; but at least half a dozen have been mentioned who are the peers of any candidate the Democrats can nominate. But it must be admitted that there are no popular favorites among the Republicans who have thrown their hats into the ring. Most of them are of the favorite-son variety. Gen. Wood may be regarded as an exception to this classification; but the Wood boom has been facing a hard winter in the East and the Middle West. For some unexplained reason it has been proceeding backwards since the first of the year. Possibly the "ground swell" that is drifting towards Hoover has something to do with the lack of interest in the Wood candidacy.

Gen. Wood has some good campaigners working for him, however, and he is likely to come out of the South with as many as 100 delegates pledged to him. But this will not be a big lead in a convention where nearly 1100 delegates will be assembled. The real excitement will begin when the returns from the first State primaries come in. As the States with the big populations are all included in this number nearly two-thirds of the delegates in each convention will have been chosen in State primaries. It is possible that half these, however, will go uninstructed.

State primaries awaken widespread interest; but they do not play as big a part in the nomination of candidates as is popularly supposed. Champ Clark beat Wilson more than three to one in the State primaries in 1912; but a number of the instructed delegations went back on him after they arrived in Baltimore. In the same year Roosevelt led Taft in the number of delegates selected in the State primaries; but Taft had secured a sufficient lead in the State conventions to give him the nomination.

States that will hold direct primaries this year and the dates, as reported in The Times' news columns, are as follows: New Hampshire, March 9; North Dakota, March 16; South Dakota, March 23; Michigan, April 5; New York, April 6; Illinois, April 13; Nebraska, April 20; Montana, April 23; Ohio, New Jersey and Massachusetts, April 27; Maryland, May 3; California and Indiana, May 4; Wyoming, May 10; Pennsylvania and Vermont, May 18; Oregon, May 21; Texas and West Virginia, May 25; Florida, June 8.

Most of these States held Presidential primaries as early as 1912; but it is noticeable that some of them have advanced the dates of the primary elections. Massachusetts and Ohio will hold their conventions about a month earlier this year than they did eight years ago. There is a political purpose in advancing the dates. The average voter likes to be with the winner; and the fact that a candidate has already won half a dozen States gives him an advantage over the other candidates in the States where primaries are yet to be held. The confusion of dates of Presidential primaries will probably result at some time in fixing a single day on which the primaries and conventions in all States will be held. That form of primary is much fairer to all concerned than the present system of stringing the primaries and conventions over three or four months.

It will be recalled that California had a Presidential preference primary eight years ago. It proved so unpopular that it was abandoned. New Hampshire will give the first indication this year of the direct primary choice for President; and before the California voter is called upon to decide New York, Massachusetts, Illinois and Ohio will already have spoken.

OIL AND TROUBLE.

The ship of state doesn't sail any more. She is an oil burner. The United States is producing a little more than a million barrels of oil a day at the present time, but experts aver that the country will want oil this year at the rate of almost two million barrels a day. That is another good and sufficient reason why relations with Mexico should be adjusted on a reciprocal trade basis. Although the United States is the world's greatest oil producer the annual output still falls short of home requirements, in spite of the development of fresh and immensely rich fields. We have got to be the guardians of the Mexican field in the interest of both countries.

We have often shuddered to think of the suffering that would follow the closing up of the cafeterias and cafes in Los Angeles for twenty-four hours. The apparent helplessness of so many otherwise well-intentioned people is appalling.

Six million dollars' worth of diamonds are being imported into this country every month. How the poor are feeling the pinch of poverty.

VISCOUNT GREY'S CONCLUSIVE LETTER.

Viscount Grey of Falloden, England's great peace advocate, has done much by his recent utterances to clear the international atmosphere. He has pointed out that there is no objection on the part of the British government to the reservations which the Senate is now discussing and which may be a part of the resolution of ratification. Ex-President Taft, most reasonable of the American peace advocates, commends highly the sentiment expressed by Lord Grey in a recent letter to the London Times and says that the way is cleared for early ratification with reservations—provided the members of the Senate will only cease verbal quibbling and realize the gravity of the question they are debating.

Lord Grey came here in September as special Ambassador representing the British government. He was not able to fill the functions of that position because President Wilson was secluded by reason of his illness and did not receive him. He spent three months in Washington, seeing little—he is almost totally blind—but hearing much. His letter to the London Times shows that he formed a clear judgment of the sentiments of the American people in regard to the League of Nations. The communication itself is a model of diplomatic expression. He presents the situation to the British public in a way that is understandable to them, and there is nothing in his statement of the case to which Americans, however sensitive, can take offense.

He writes that "The participation of the United States was enormously helpful in securing the victory in the critical months of 1918, and its help will be even more essential to secure stability in peace. Without the United States the League of Nations will become little more than a league of the Allies formed for self-defense against a revival of Prussian militarism or against a sinister sequel to Bolshevism in Russia. Bolshevism is despotism, and despotisms have a tendency to become militaristic, as the French Revolution proved. The great object of the League of Nations is to prevent future wars and to discourage from the beginning the growth of aggressive armaments that would lead to war. For this purpose it should operate at once and begin here and now in the first years of peace to establish a reputation for justice, moderation and strength."

An utterance by Lord Grey on any international subject would command instant attention and respect. He has grown old in the public service of Great Britain and has earned a reputation as one of the clearest thinkers and most forceful and logical writers in the galaxy of living statesmen. Perhaps his most notable utterance was his reply to Bethmann-Hollweg, German Chancellor in 1914, respecting the sanctity of treaties. Lord Grey was at that time Foreign Secretary for Great Britain and the German Chancellor had referred in contemptuous terms to the peace treaty guaranteeing the integrity of the soil of Belgium. Lord Grey's reply that Great Britain would never regard any treaty on which British signatures appeared as a "scrap of paper" did much to win the sympathy of neutral countries for the cause of the Allies.

Lord Grey is no recent convert to the idea of a League of Nations. He was the leading British exponent of a League of Peace before the war began. He attended the Peace Conference, representing Great Britain, and ably seconded President Wilson's efforts to make the constitution of a League of Nations a part of the peace treaty. Like President Wilson, he held that the League covenant must be made a part of the treaty itself, that it would be futile to try to create a League after the peace negotiations were concluded.

Mr. Taft speaks in the highest terms of the reasonable attitude which Lord Grey has taken. He says that it must be understood that Lord Grey speaks, though as a private citizen, with the assurance of the British government; that he expresses the official British view of the controversy. But for his failing eyesight Lord Grey would now be floor leader in Parliament and holding an important Cabinet position. He went to Washington at the sacrifice of his physical comfort, hoping that he could aid in compromising the differences between the President and the Senate. The President displayed, however, an apparent disinclination to meet him, another indication of the uncompromising attitude that President Wilson has assumed.

Lord Grey said that it is "A League of Nations" rather than "THE League of Nations" that Great Britain desires. He declared that Great Britain would not object to an increase in the number of votes allotted to America in the Assembly of the League. Holding that the self-governing colonies of Great Britain earned their right by their defense of other free peoples to a voice in the Assembly of the League, Lord Grey said that he did not doubt that Great Britain would readily agree to an interpretation of the League covenant which would hold that none of the British colonies should vote on any dispute between this country and Great Britain that might come before the League.

Conciliation is the dominant tone of Lord Grey's utterances. His attitude is similar to that of Mr. Taft in this country. He does not attempt to impugn the motives of the Senators who are opposing the ratification of the treaty; but he makes clear that Great Britain is willing to accept any reasonable reservation that the Senate may impose. He says that the United States must enter the League as a willing partner, although with a limited obligation, in order that it may be of real service in promoting peace and discouraging war.

If President Wilson and Senator Lodge would display a similar spirit of conciliation the peace treaty would be quickly ratified. Commenting on Lord Grey's letter Mr. Taft writes:

> When we note in the accounts given by both Senator Lodge and Senator Hitchcock of the meeting of the bipartisan committee how small is the difference between the two sides, a difference that is largely verbal and not substantial, and weigh this fact with the attitude of Great Britain, evidenced by this great letter of Lord Grey, we have a right to hope that a ratification of the treaty will be promptly brought about.

The Times can only add that it trusts Mr. Taft speaks with the voice of prophecy. The "verbal quibbling" is discreditable to all concerned.

HIGH COST OF SNOW.

Among the many benefits of dwelling in Southern California is this one which must appeal to erstwhile easterners: The people here don't have to contend with the high cost of snow. Back in the Atlantic States they are now enjoying—but that really isn't the right word—overshoes weather. One reads in their newspapers that they have been dumping snow into the harbors and rivers. The householders have been indulging in the delightful exercise of shoveling snow off the sidewalks and the roofs of the houses while city employees have been desperately engaged in clearing the streets in the shopping and wholesale districts. This snow removal is expensive. One city mournfully records the fact that where it used to get the snow cleared away after a big storm for a trifle like $25,000 the cost now has risen to $65,000. Contrast conditions there and here. In Los Angeles one has to be content with an occasional glimpse of snow on Mt. Baldy or on Wilson's Peak. Once in a while there's a deep enough fall on the summits of the Sierra Madre range to justify the running of excursions up the Mt. Lowe Railway or to the foot of the Wilson trail. But nobody has to take a shovel along. Who could wish for more delightful winter conditions than have prevailed in Southern California this year? So far there hasn't even been the normal quantity of rain, but there is still the hope that February will be more generous in this regard than January proved to be

RIPPLING RHYMES.

HENS.

I have a dozen silly hens I bought
To make high cost look sick; and it would take a powerful lens to see just where they do the trick. 'Twas in a poultry magazine I read that chickens always pay; they lay large eggs, and said eggs mean a handsome profit every day. That publication missed its guess or tried to put some bunk across; the female roosters I possess are nothing but a total loss. I dreamed when first
I took them home of selling eggs about the town; no more I'd hawk the dippy pome and have my patrons beat me down. A basketful of benfruit fine I'd proudly take upon my arm and draw eight plunks or maybe nine—such dreams of commerce have their charm. Alas, my hens are golden bricks, they loaf around on idle legs; their squawking voices answer "Nix," when I beseech them for some eggs. They eat all kinds of greens and grain—what such things cost my ledger tells; I feed egg tonics all in vain, they won't lay eggs nor even shells.
That delegate was surely daft who wrote that hens would help out fine;
we cannot beat the high-cost graft
by keeping hens or cows or swine.

WALT MASON.

OUR SUNNY FRIEND

Bryan in 1940.

(A' Carcassone.)

"How old am I? I'm eighty years,
I've schemed both hard and long,
Yet many as the plans I've tried,
One wish I've never satisfied.
It almost seems a wrong.
A dream I had when life was new,
Alas, our dreams they come not true,
I thought to go to Washington,
As President, fair Washington.

"One sees it dimly in his dreams
Out here at Lincoln, Neb.
How often have I watched my booms
Spring quickly up like young mushrooms,
And then as quickly ebb!
The voters shouted, as I say,
But voted quite the other way,
I never went to Washington
As President, fair Washington.

"It's gay all times at Washington,
As picnic days at home,
And Senators drive motor cars
And Congressmen smoke fat cigars
Around the gilded dome
Of our great nation's Capitol,
But the President he leads them all—
Alas, I knew not Washington
As President, fair Washington."

Thus sighed B. Bryan bent with age,
Half dozing in his chair:
I said, "My friend, while there is life
You still may conquer in the strife;
Democracy's still here;
Since you have run so oft before:"
"I'll try," he cried with joy, "once more;
I still may win to Washington,
As President, fair Washington!"

Events that SHOULD Have happened.

Senator James Reed had an engagement to speak at Pennypacker's Hall one Friday night. An old schoolmate of his was principal of the High School.

James decided to pay the latter a visit at his post. The Senator was ushered into the room just as the High School Literary Society was beginning their weekly session, with the time-hallowed literary society institution quotations.

After the Senator was seated a member sprang this:

"Very few of the millions who cumber this earth
Are left without guidance were all the truth known,
For the Lord takes care of children and fools,
And the Devil takes care of his own."

Which was followed by this from a red-headed boy in a green sweater:

"God'll take care of you, Jim,
God'll take care of you."

MARGERY ...

Practically every man carries life insurance because he considers it a wise provison for his family.

Yet many men who are careful about paying the premium on their policies, neglect to make a Will.

Surely the document that directs the disposition of the material accumulations of a lifetime, and protects your family, is of tremendous importance.

Consider your Will in the same light as insurance—for it is insurance. It insures the protection of your estate.

Instruct the lawyer who draws your Will to name Title Insurance and Trust Company as your Executor. This INSURES a safe, competent administration of property for your heirs.

FRAUD CHARGE CALLED "BUNK."

Money Lender in Tart Reply to Banker's Action.

Says Offer that was Refused is Basis of Suit.

Points Out that Warrant was Denied After Inquiry.

F. H. Richman, one of the defendants in the suit of the Bank of Perris to recover approximately $50,000, of which the bank was looted by Joseph B. Moffere, a fugitive from justice, stated through his attorney, John E. Biby, yesterday, that the charges of conspiracy against him and A. L. Greenberg to defraud the bank are not true, and that he will vigorously defend the charges made against him.

The transaction out of which the suit arose occurred April 18, 1919, at the Bank of Perris. W. W. Stewart, president of the bank, had been negotiating with Moffere to purchase the bank; he and members of his family owning 209 of the 250 shares of stock. The stock was worth $140 a share, but Moffere agreed to pay Mr. Stewart $180 a share.

Subsequently, according to Attorney Biby, Moffere approached Mr. Richman, who is a wealthy real estate dealer, to lend him $37,200 with which to purchase the stock. Mr. Richman advised with Mr. Greenberg and declined to lend this large amount. Moffere then said he would put $10,000 of his own money into the stock if they would make the loan, and that he would pledge the stock to them if they made the loan as security for his note for $27,200, the amount of the loan.

Subsequently, at the bank, Mr. Biby states, Moffere told Mr. Stewart he was ready to close the deal. Mr. Stewart called his sons and held a directors' meeting. The Stewarts resigned and elected Moffere and two others whom he named as directors, and the Stewarts indorsed their stock and delivered it to Moffere. About the time they were ready to go Mr. Richman asked Moffere to sign the note pledging the stock to him as security for the loan he and Mr. Greenberg were to make. But Moffere, according to Mr. Biby, told Mr. Richman he had arranged with Mr. Stewart to take other security, and that he would not need the money from Messrs. Richman and Greenberg.

Mr. Richman further states, according to his attorney, that he had nothing further to do with the transaction. Moffere disappeared and Mr. Stewart became suspicious and made an investigation. He found that Moffere had withdrawn funds belonging to the bank on deposit with a Riverside bank in the sum of $25,000, and cash and bonds totaling more than $40,000, it is asserted.

Mr. Stewart laid the matter before Dist.-Atty. Kelly of Riverside county and asked the issuance of a warrant against Mr. Richman and Mr. Greenberg. After a full investigation Mr. Kelly decided they were guilty of no wrong and refused to issue the warrant, it is stated. A suit was filed against Mr. Richman and Mr. Greenberg last May to recover $27,000 on the theory that they had returned this amount of money over to Moffere for the benefit of Mr. Stewart.

This action was set for trial last Monday, and would have been tried then, but that the attorneys for the Bank of Perris told Mr. Biby that the new complaint by the bank would be filed. It is probable that the two cases will be consolidated and both tried at the same time.

FOR A WINERY AT TIA JUANA.

Carter Gets Query Regarding Grape Shipments and on "Dry" Rail Rulings.

Internal Collector Carter received word yesterday that a large corporation is arranging to erect a mammoth winery near Tia Juana, and he was requested to answer several questions of interest to the projectors of the enterprise.

They wanted to know if there was anything prohibiting the purchase of the necessary amount of grapes in Southern California, and whether or not the wine could be shipped in bond through the United States, destined to some foreign country. He answered both queries in the affirmative.

Of course, there will be no grapes available in Southern California before next fall, but, at any rate there is a well-defined plan to erect one of the largest wineries in the country in the vicinity of the place that is now the race track center of Mexico.

NEAR EAST WORKER IS COLLAPSE VICTIM.

Collapsing as a result of the work he has been doing in the near East relief campaign, Dr. Dana Bartlett is critically ill at his home. All his speaking engagements on behalf of the campaign have been cancelled, it was announced at the campaign headquarters last night.

The nation-wide campaign for near East relief is for $60,000,000, all of which goes into actual relief work overseas. All campaign expenses are donated by a group of wealthy men in New York. Los Angeles is asked to raise $600,000, and Southern California $1,000,000. Donations are being taken at headquarters at 517 Wright & Callender Building.

CLINE DROPS FIGHT ON SPEED OFFICERS.

CALLS ORDINANCE "JOKE" BUT WANTS "PEACE AND HARMONY."

Sheriff Cline will make no resistance to the Board of Supervisors taking control of county motorcycle officers today, according to his announcement yesterday. He said that he had reached the decision "for the sake of harmony and peace and the welfare of the public on county highways."

The resolution, adopted a month ago by the Board of Supervisors, took control of the speed officers out of the Sheriff's hands. They asserted that he had dismissed many speed cases and did not allow them to go to court.

"The Board of Supervisors cannot compel me to appoint deputies to work under them, although they can limit the number I appoint," remarked the Sheriff. "I consider the legality of the ordinance a joke."

The speed officers today will be put in charge of W. F. Cannon, county speed captain, acting under the Supervisors. Though he was "dismissed" by Sheriff Cline, his dismissal was not approved by the Supervisors or the Civil Service Commission.

Sheriff Cline, who is charged in a suit by the county with failing to turn into the county treasurer fees collected by him for the feeding of immigration prisoners in the County Jail, filed his answer and a demurrer to the charge yesterday. Judge Jackson set the case for hearing next Monday. Through Attorney George Greer, the Sheriff contends that the court has no jurisdiction to try the issue and further that two Superior Court judges have held the amounts in question were not fees.

WOULD IMPORT CHINESE LABOR.

Boston Manufacturer Advocates Immediate Action.

Santa Barbara Orientals Hold Celebration.

Judge Calls Special Session of Grand Jury.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 3.—Julian DeCordova, multi-millionaire manufacturer of Boston, today made a strong appeal to the Commercial Club urging the importation of 500,000 Chinese coolies as a solution to the high cost of living and labor problems which confront the Coast.

"If you people of the Pacific Coast will do this you will check the Japanese menace, and secure abundance of labor to harvest your crops, cheap labor that will result in forcing down the cost of the necessaries of life. Bring over the Chinese in large numbers on a three years' contract and before their industry Japanese will disappear and cost of living will drop."

In an independent movement in no way connected with the Commercial Club meeting the Chinese of the city met today to celebrate the opening of the new quarters of the Chinese National League, and opened their meeting by singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Only Chinese were present. In speeches they extolled the United States as a friend of China and as the only nation that had never crushed a republic or an independent or weak people.

Superior Judge S. E. Crow this afternoon issued a call for the meeting of the grand jury, Monday, February 16. No explanation why the session is called is made. The inquisitors adjourned early in January not expecting to meet again until July.

Because the Newhall Land Company refuses to give the highway commissioner of the State a right of way as surveyed from Santa Maria to Bakersfield, immediate work on the proposed Cuyama highway for which State, Federal and county aid has been secured, will be held up, according to County Supervisor C. L. Parker, until the State can force through the courts condemnation proceedings. San Louis Obispo, Kern and Santa Barbara counties each appropriated $50,000 for the Cuyama road fund, the State gives $100,000 and the Federal government $150,000. Grading on the road was expected to begin this month.

IN BEHALF OF CZECHO-SLAVS.

Eastern Woman Tells of Americanization Work.

Candidates for Commission to Stay in Race.

Boy Makes Record Run on "Kiddie-Kar."

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 3.—The organizer of Americanization work among the Czecho-Slovaks in the United States is in Pasadena. Mrs. Robert Kueblar of Newark, N. J., who is at the head of the Americanization propaganda among the Czechs is a guest at Hotel Green, having come to the Coast for a rest after months of strenuous work in the East.

According to Mrs. Kueblar, the Czecho-Slovaks readily respond to Americanization efforts much quicker than other foreigners, due to a great extent from the fact that in their own country illiteracy is practically unknown. The organization that Mrs. Kueblar represents devotes its efforts to work among the women and children, leaving the men and boys to the Newark Y.M.C.A. Besides the Czecho-Slovaks, the Contemporary Club of Newark, of which Mrs. Kueblar is a member, is engaged in Americanization work among twenty-seven nationalities. While in Southern California she will confer with club leaders with reference to Americanization work. She has been requested to address a number of meetings of women's clubs in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

WILL NOT WITHDRAW.

Formal request has been made of William Easterbrook and Leslie I. Hood, candidates for City Commissioner at the recall election, that they withdraw from the race, but in statements issued today both declare they will remain in the running. The request that they withdraw comes from the Voter's League, which recently indorsed Theodore Byrnes, and which is fighting Commissioners John J. Hamilton and M. H. Salisbury, against whom the recall has been invoked.

KIDDIE SETS RECORD.

Four-year-old Ralph Burns ran away from home today and was not found for several hours, while the police and distracted parents were searching for him. The youngster was finally located in Alhambra, where he had made his way on a kiddie car. The little boy rode five miles, crossing several railroad tracks, and was only stopped when he nearly collided with an automobile. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Burns of 373 Waldo avenue.

TO TEACH STORY TELLING.

A feature of the second semester of the evening high school classes which will begin February 16, will be the instruction in story telling for adults. The Board of Education has appointed Miss Florence McAfee as instructor in the new subject. It is believed that the Pasadena High School is the first to provide such a course.

CHURCH MAY BUILD.

At a meeting of the congregation of the First Methodist Church tomorrow night the subject of purchasing a new site for church purposes will be considered. The present site at Colorado street and Marengo avenue is regarded as too valuable for business property to continue to be used for church purposes. Action on the building project is expected to be taken tomorrow night.

PASADENA IS PARADISE.

A compliment to Pasadena was paid by a mail clerk in Boston recently when he sent a letter mailed at the Back Bay station and addressed to Mrs. J. H. Henry, 1199 Oak Knoll avenue, "Paradise," to Mrs. Henry, who is a prominent clubwoman of Pasadena. Mrs. Henry received the letter today.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Residents of Porterville Plan Big Things.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 3.—By unanimous vote the Board of Supervisors passed resolutions creating the enlarged Porterville Union High School district, comprising ten additional grammar school districts, with an area of nearly 100 square miles, having nearly $7,000,000 assessed valuation of property and making of it, in territory, the largest union district in rural California.

Under the new administration of the district, in which members of the Board of Education will be elected at large, it is proposed to erect a new union high school building, which will be second to none in point of equipment in Central California and provide a junior college course of study. Steps for this expansion are to be taken without delay.

BISHOP OFFICIATES.

High Church Dignitary Attends Funeral of Judge.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, Feb. 3.—Funeral services of Judge James B. Barry, son of Gen. P. H. Barry, governor of this branch, were held in the Catholic chapel here this morning. Evidence of the esteem in which he was held was shown in the attendance of veterans and friends, who failed to find standing room, either inside or within hearing distance outside the chapel.

A high solemn requiem mass, with Chaplain Father Hawe, celebrant, was heightened in interest in the presence in the pulpit of Rt. Rev. J. J. Cantwell, bishop of this diocese, and by the co-operation of Father Cullen, a visiting Paulist father—who delivered a deeply touching sermon—and by the deacon, subdeacon and other ecclesiastics.

PROMINENT POLITICIAN DIES AT LONG BEACH.

WAS PHYSICIAN AND STATE SENATOR IN IOWA. NEWS NOTES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Feb. 3.—In failing health for the past year, Dr. T. W. Bennett, 67 years old, retired physician and former State Senator of Iowa, died here today in a local hospital. For thirty-five years Dr. Bennett was a practicing physician of Lennox, Iowa.

He came to Long Beach with his wife and son, Floyd, five years ago, making his home at 238 Molino avenue. The deceased was a graduate of the University of Iowa. He also studied medicine at Rush College, Chicago. While a resident of Lennox, Dr. Bennett was president of the First National Bank of that city and was active in civic affairs. He was a York rite Mason and Shriner. Funeral services will be held from the Patterson & McQuilkin parlors Thursday afternoon. The body will be taken to Lennox for burial.

PINNED UNDER AUTO.

Pinned under a blazing automobile that turned turtle on the Long Beach-Los Angeles boulevard early today, Miss Gladys Callahan of 642 Esther street, and Hall Miles of the Munn apartments, narrowly escaped death. The automobile, which caught fire immediately upon overturning, was pulled off the young couple by passing motorists before the flames had gained any great headway. Both Miss Callahan and young Miles escaped with but slight bruises.

NEW JITNEY SERVICE.

To accommodate workmen in the harbor industrial plants and residents of the West Side, a new jitney service will be placed in operation Wednesday morning. A five-minute service will be maintained.

STEAMER MAKES GOOD ON TRIAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Feb. 3.—The steamer West Hika, nineteenth product of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, went out on her trial trip in the San Pedro channel today. The vessel is virtually completed and will be turned over to the Los Angeles-Pacific Navigation Company for the Singapore run within a few days. The West Hika is a standard-type 8800-ton freighter.

The steamer West Nivaria, of the same type as the West Hika, will be launched at the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company's shipyard on Sunday morning at 11:45 o'clock. Miss Evelyn Hellman, daughter of Irving Hellman, one of the directors of the shipbuilding company, will sponsor the vessel.

CITY BIDS FOR WORK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 3.—When bids were opened this morning for the improvement of nearly a mile of Magnolia avenue it was found that the city itself had decided to take a hand in the bidding. And the city's bid, $32,343, was fully $3000 lower than any other submitted. Alarmed, apparently, at its success, in competition with bidders whose proposals ran as high as $38,445, the Council deferred action on the award of contract for one week.

PAY DAY AT HOME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOLDIERS' HOME, Feb. 3.—Civilian employees and members on extra duty were paid today for the month of January. The total sum was somewhat over $18,000.

RAINFALL CONFINED TO A NARROW BELT.

RESTRICTED AREA VISITED BY SHOWERS; LAST YEAR TOTAL APPROACHED.

The precipitation up to last night was:

	Storm	Season	Last year

Pomona	.03	7.73	4.79

San Bernardino	.02	6.10	6.67
Highland	.12	7.27	6.32
Eureka	.07	4.79	3.68

The rain yesterday was confined to a narrow belt across the State. The most northerly point visited by the showers was Bakersfield and no rain was recorded from points a few miles south of Los Angeles. Showers are predicted for today.

A year ago at this time all the localities which reported yesterday were visited by showers that made the season totals higher than that reached with the present rain, but according to the authorities conditions point to a continuation of the precipitation which may shortly put the total for the season above that of last year.

"COULD NOT SOLID FOOD," MRS. HAWK Baby Grew Thin Sickly.
Now Both Mother Child Are Well
"I was in mighty bad shape now I'm able to do all my own work, even to my cooking and garden work, and I weigh more than I have in eighteen years and it is all by taking Tanlac only a few weeks," said Mrs. Della Hawkins, wife of a well-known engineer residing at 4906 Second avenue, Birmingham, Alabama.
"For many years," continued Mrs. Hawkins, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism in my shoulders, arms and in my sides and back. I had indigestion, too, in its worst form. I was so nervous that the least little thing would get on the floor would startle me and my heart would almost stop beating. I had indigestion so bad I could not eat any solid food at all and was so thin and weak and in such a run down condition that my husband and I were very much worried. I suffered untold misery until it was just a little more than I could stand and I fretted and cried at times, especially when it was given me by my husband to make it quiet. No benefit from any treatment or medicine did me any good and it was getting worse all the time and I don't know what I would have done if it hadn't been for Tanlac.
"A good friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac and it certainly did wonders for me. Tanlac also did it for me and my husband says I felt better in just a few days after I began taking it. I could tell from the first thing and sleep better and my appetite showed improvement almost from the start as I did. I have taken five bottles of Tanlac and I am not exaggerating the least now and my pains and aches and rheumatic pains and misery are all gone and I don't need to take any more. I can eat anything I want and my food not only gives me nourishment, but my husband says I am putting on flesh as a little pig and sleep like a baby a time on a pallet and pillow and never utter a whimper. It has been a blessing to me since I felt as well and strong as I do now and as I have already said I weigh more than I have in the last eighteen years. Tanlac has made a well woman of me and a happy mother and baby out of my little sickly one and I don't know any better way to express what a wonderful medicine it is than that I'm just so thankful for what Tanlac has done for me and I want everybody to know of this great medicine."
Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles and San Diego by Owl Drug Co.—[Advertisement.

HUBLEY CASE IS ON TRIAL.

Five Witnesses Heard Against City Chiropractor.

Six Women Included on Jury in Test Litigation.

Defendant Alleges He Does not Practice Medicine.

After spending the greater part of the day in securing a jury, Police Judge Richardson yesterday began hearing evidence in the case of Dr. E. Bernard Hubley, a chiropractor, with offices in the Washington Building, who was arrested by agents of the State Board of Medical Examiners a month ago on a charge of practicing medicine without a license. Five witnesses for the prosecution were called late yesterday afternoon. About the same number for the State will testify today and the defense headed by Attorneys Thomas Morris, former Lieutenant-Governor of Wisconsin, and Mattison B. Jones will then put on its witnesses.

According to Attorney Morris, the defense will attempt to show that Dr. Hubley has not practiced medicine without a license or any other way, and that the method used by the chiropractor is not a "mode or system of medicine" as claimed in the complaint. Attorneys Morris and Jones yesterday declined to cross-examine any of the State's witnesses, declaring that no evidence against their client had been given.

The case, which, according to attorneys on both sides, will take several days to try, and which is being heard by a jury of six men and six women, will, the lawyers say, settle once and for all the question of chiropractors operating in this State without a license. Attorneys for the defense allege that it is impossible for their clients to obtain a license from the State board, and that all chiropractors in this State are ruled against by the board. The defense points to twenty-one States in the Union that have State boards for chiropractors, asserting that California refused to allow them to practice.

Dr. Hubley, in a statement yesterday, declared that he does not use, or pretend to use, medicine in any form, and only works with the spine. He stated that the Board of Medical Examiners is attempting to "run me out of the State."

Police Judge Richardson said yesterday that the burden of the proof rests with the defense to show that the chiropractor is not engaged in the practice of medicine without a license. Attorneys for the defense declare that they can prove, first, that their client does not require a license, and, second, that if he did it is impossible to obtain one in this State.

The hearing will be resumed at 10 a.m. today.

FOR MICHIGAN MEETING.

At the midwinter rally of the Michigan Society in Forum Hall, 203 Mercantile place, tomorrow evening, a programme will be given, including the Marian Warde Comedy Players, Francis Lea in a whistling solo, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lea, and Alma Burman, vocal solo, accompanied by Pauline Kallin Lewis.

His grandfather is Olin Wellborn, Sr., formerly United States district judge here and his uncle is Olin Wellborn, Jr., also an attorney. On the application of Olin Wellborn, III, appear the names of Olin Wellborn, Sr., and Olin Wellborn, Jr. The youngest Wellborn, who is 23 years of age, studied law under his father, Judge Charles Wellborn.

POMONA LODGE TO BURY JESS.

Services at Home to be of Simple Nature.

Masonic Ceremony will be Used at Grave.

Officials of Bank to Serve as Pallbearers.

The last tribute to the memory of Stoddard Jess, banker and civic leader of this city, will be paid at the graveside in Pomona today by Pomona Masonic Lodge No. 244, of which Mr. Jess was a member for many years. His first affiliation with the Masons was in this lodge, and during all the years he resided here he kept up his dues in Pomona lodge, which will honor him by performing its ritual when the body is laid to rest in the beautiful little cemetery at the south gate of the Pomona Valley, at 1:30 p.m. today.

Services at the family residence this forenoon at 10 o'clock will be of a very simple nature, in keeping with the character of the man in whose honor they are to be conducted. Rev. E. Stanton Hodgin, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, will deliver a brief, but personal, funeral oration in the presence of friends and relatives at the home, 2133 Harvard boulevard. The funeral party will proceed from there to Pomona, the former home of Mr. Jess, by automobile.

Pallbearers have been chosen from the associates of Mr. Jess in the First National Bank and the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank. They are H. D. Roberts, former vice-president of the First National Bank; J. B. Burke, E. S. Pauly, W. H. Lutz and A. O. Martin of that institution, and Jay Spence of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank. Members of the Masonic lodges of this city, to which Mr. Jess belonged, have decided to participate in the funeral services merely as personal friends of the deceased, in deference to Pomona Lodge No. 244, which will perform its ritual at the grave.

Directors of the First National Bank have ordered resolutions of respect and condolence engrossed and presented to the widow as a token of the esteem in which they held Mr. Jess.

See that the daily functions are regular and

YOU can't expect the little one to be happy and playful when the head feels dull and the stomach bloated. The normal habit of children is to be happy and when you notice them cross and fretful you will usually find constipation is responsible.

Perhaps they have missed that daily function so necessary to comfort and health: Look at the tongue and see if the breath is bad. Watch for backing. These are the tell-tale symptoms of constipation. Tonight give a little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can buy at any drug store, and it will act in the morning and the troublesome symptoms promptly disappear.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. Unlike the harsher physics it acts gently and without griping so that while grownups can use it freely it can also be given to a tiny baby with perfect safety. Thousands of American families would not think of being without a bottle in the house for the occasional almost daily when it is

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best liquid laxative in the world, being over 6 million bottles a year, many who need it have not yet used it. THEDA BARA MARRIES.

WORLD'S CHAMP VAMP WEDS THEATRICAL MANAGER.

By Grace Kingsley.

A highly romantic sensation was sprung on the Rialto yesterday when it became known that Theda Bara, the world's screen champ vamp, had wed, according to word received from New York. The happy man is perhaps the last one in the world you might expect her to accept. He's no ethereal poet with long hair, nor yet an evangelist, as rumor lately had it; was the man of Miss Bara's choice; but a mere man, a regular guy, say his friends, Tom Bodkin, manager of the musical comedy, "The Sweetheart Shop." The bridegroom was formerly manager for Frank Moran, the pugilist, and it may be that in winning Miss Bara he used some of the cave methods learned from the fighter. At any rate the rumor that she was engaged to marry an evangelist is now proven false, unless the lady is more fickle than any character she has ever played on the screen.

The wedding took place in Pittsburgh, in a Catholic church, into which faith Miss Bara was born. An effort was made to keep the marriage secret but news of it leaked out.

The news comes as rather a surprise to those of her friends to whom Miss Bara has always vowed she wouldn't wed, being, as she put it on one occasion to me, "not of the marrying kind." Later it was understood she was engaged to a New York broker, but she also denied that, saying that she didn't believe an artist of her temperament should wed.

Miss Bara and her husband have been acquainted ever since she went back to New York, following her work here for the Fox Company over a year ago, but none of her friends suspected a real romance until the two were discovered to be actually married.

The star, who is now rehearsing the leading role in an A. H. Woods stage production, "The Blue Flame," to be put on shortly in New York, is part owner of the musical comedy of which her husband is manager.

Goldwyn Comes Home.

Out at the Goldwyn studio they are bustling about brushing up the boss's mahogany roll-top desk and taking the covers off the pictures of Washington and of Adolph Zukor in his private office, in anticipation of the fact that Samuel Goldwyn, president of the Goldwyn picture organization will arrive here from New York on Saturday or Sunday.

A number of the Eminent Authors are already here, including Mary Roberts Rinehart and Gouverneur Morris, and it is expected that some important meetings with these will be held in consultation with Mr. Goldwyn. It is also anticipated that some interesting announcements will be made by that gentleman in regard to new stars signed and new stories purchased.

Mabel Normand in High Comedy.

It's a brand new Mabel Normand we're going to see in George Ade's "Slim Princess," according to the statement of no less an authority than Victor Schertzinger, her director.

As a matter of fact, Miss Normand from now on has probably finished with her professional rags, and may burn them up or give them to the poor. She is to play high comedy, not slap-stick, and Mr. Schertzinger considers that she is pre-eminently fitted for this sort of work.

And speaking of the Normand family, the star has brought back from New York her big brother, Claude, recently released from the American fighting forces, who saw service in France, and she's going to make a cameraman of him or know the reason why. At present he is her assistant cameraman.

De Mille's Noted Aide.

Cecil B. De Mille has added another illustrious name to the list of distinguished literary people attached to his staff. Saulsbury Field, noted author and playwright, is now a member of the De Mille official family, and is busily engaged on the current Cecil B. De Mille special production.

Will Rogers Bulletin.

And now an important member of Will Rogers's company at the Goldwyn studio, in other words, not less a person than his son and co-worker, Jimmy, aged 5, is liable any day to be put out of the studio. The reason is that Jimmy's sister, Mary, has the measles, and Mr. Rogers states he is expecting Jimmy to break out all spotted at any minute.

By the way, the most recent form of sport indulged in by Rogers and his friends, Tom Mix, Doug. Fairbanks and Jack Dempsey, is roping goats. Rogers owns a bunch of them, which are kept at the Goldwyn studio, and every Sunday the actors and cowboys mounted on horses, seek to see how many of the nannies and billies they can lasso. It's a stimulating sport, says Rogers, even if it doesn't have the odor of the rose, and it's difficult too.

"I haven't lassoed a single one yet," said Rogers yesterday, "but I'm buying a new goat every once in a while, hoping after a while I'll get one I can catch."

Hawaii to be Filmed.

An invasion of Hawaii by the motion-picture industry on an unprecented scale is being planned by Los Angeles promoters, backed by Hawaiian capital, according to announcement received yesterday. The wonders of Waikiki and thereabouts have been filmed to a certain extent, but none too wisely or too well, it would seem—at least this is the opinion of the producers who are planning an invasion of the Pacific's paradise.

Director Louis W. Chaudet is handling the negotiations for taking an entire film colony across the Pacific, to do a series of pictures with the islands as a locale, and the stories woven around the spirit of the South Seas as background, but with up-to-date themes.

It is claimed that the promoters have the backing of a wealthy Hawaiian syndicate, and that $250,000 is to be the initial expenditure of the Hawaiian syndicate.

Bill Desmond's New Home.

A beautiful new home has just been built by William Desmond, Hampton star, on one of the sightly Hollywood boulevards. It is being finished this week, and early next week Mr. Desmond and his wife, known professionally as Mary McIvor, expect to give a house warming to their friends.

There is a billiard room, a library and a sleeping porch, besides other up-to-the-minute features, but whether there is a cellar or not is the thing Mr. Desmond's friends are waiting anxiously to find out.

Pauline Frederick to Flit.

Pauline Frederick and her company of Goldwyn players expect to migrate to the desert near Victorville, today, taking with them fifty head of horses to be used in her current picture.

Louise Fazenda, Authoress.

Louise Fazenda, Mack Sennett star, is all excited these days over a recent literary venture of hers. She has just had accepted by the Motion Picture Classic, a fan publication, her latest manuscript on film folk. It is called "Impressions," and will be published in a forthcoming issue of the magazine named.

COMMUNITY PLAYS.

VIBRANT SOCIAL DRAMALET AT HOLLYWOOD THEATER.

By Edwin Schallert.

A flashing sword that deals frank and open warfare against an enemy common to domestic peace in higher social circles, "For Distinguished Service," by Florence Clay Knox, which received its first production on any stage Monday evening, is the luminous feature of the programme of four one-act plays being presented at the Hollywood Community Theater. Of course, there is also that al fresco fantasy, "The Shepherd in the Distance," that revives, it might be said, a lost art of the stage, but this has already received critical consideration at its previous presentation last season. Its attractions are undiminished on a second view, because in the vivid and illuminating color of the staging, and the clever work of the mimes, it is a vignette in the gallery of the beaux-arts. Antrim Short, James Mitchell Leisen, Juliane Johnston, Dick Morgan, Edgar Hansen are ever a delight in the suggestive power of their gestures and expressions. There was a slight lack of cohesion in the work of players and the maker of sounds at the start of the fantasy, but the rhythmic blending later resumed its proper cast, with Earl Pearsall furnishing the necessary drummings and tappings, and the violin part effectively played by Athena Thompson.

But to return to the new. "For Distinguished Service" is just the simple story of giving instead of taking. The play has the usual triadic formation of husband, wife and the other woman. The drama is all between the wife and the other woman. The husband never appears. One woman makes a sacrifice. Which, it is not necessary to state. She keeps the red ribbon the husband sent her on a box of candy "for distinguished service." Florence Hart as Miss Katherine Burton gave an interpretation that had warmth at dignity at once. She was excellent in the role. Caroline Abrams marred her performance by a nervous reading of the lines.

"Sabotage," the playlet from the French and originally produced at the Grand Guignol, Paris, glories in no less than three collaborating authors—rather a large number for a twenty-minute sketch. The translation throws very little light on the literary worth of the original. Many of the lines stop short of the point they should drive across. But Helen Eddy's acting as Angele, Lionel Belmore in a brief bit as Dr. Margy, the sharp clinching attack on Bolshevistic violence contained in the tragic finale, renew the strength of the impoverished lines.

A pretty comedy conceit is "The Green Scarf," by Kenneth Goodman, which received its first production with George Swan and Helenita Lieberg in the roles of the man and the woman who meet on a park bench while contemplating committing suicide, and don't.

A very well-balanced programme, with some flaws, but a very brilliant general effect is the Hollywood Community Theater's present offering.

"DESERT GOLD" AT THE ALHAMBRA.

How much the illumination of comedy means in the producing of sparkle on the dark ruddy stream of melodrama is shown in "Desert Gold," the film feature based on Zane Grey's story of the West, showing this week at the Alhambra Theater. Much of the enjoyment of the picture is afforded by the group of odd types who inhabit the homestead where the action of the story is centralized. Little touches in the method of portraying these people, and in the direction emphasize the fact that both producer and players made much of their opportunity for developing the vein of humor in the play, along with the fights about mines, water rights and the heroine's honor, which constitute the main plot material. There is in the feature a nice thread of finer sentiment in the way the Indian shows his love-from-afar for the girl. All of these lighter tints add to the colorful quality of a story that has a good solid background of events.

E. K. Lincoln, Eileen Percy, Margery Wilson, W. Lawson Butt and Russell Simpson all appear in very satisfactorily cast in this feature play, which was effectively directed by T. Hayes Hunter.

Tally's Broadway.

Norma Talmadge is supplying suspense and thrills in her photoplay, "The Daughter of Two Worlds," this week at Tally's Broadway, where the feature is showing following a successful run at the Kinema. The film reveals the efforts of a young girl to live down the events of her early association, through environment, with deleterious influences.

Locklear with Cody.

That Ormer Locklear, the daring aviator, is to be engaged by Lew Cody as advisory director in an air feature film to show the champion lovemaker in a hitherto unexplored —as far as Cupid has ventured, at least—realm, was reported yesterday at the star's studio in Glendale.

Locklear and Cody had a conference yesterday at Cody's Hollywood home, and, according to statements by friends of the pair, the object was to come to an agreement regarding the collaboration of the aviator and film favorite in a new picture.

Locklear himself starred in an aero feature put out by the Universal recently, and it is said that his pal, Lew, put the "bee in his bonnet" that directing might provide a new field for Locklear's talents.

Report also has it that Locklear is to inaugurate an air transportation service similar to that of Syd Chaplin. Just where Mr. Locklear intends to have his proposed field is not indicated in the rumor.

Al St. John Starts.

Al St. John, now installed at the old Horsley Studios on Main street, has commenced work on his fifth two-reel comedy for the Warner Brothers. The script is from St. John's own Underwood, and is called "The Paper Hanger." Ferris Hartman, well known as musical comedy director in other days, is to assist St. John in the direction.

Bryant Washburn Busy.

Bryant Washburn starts work this week on "The Sins of St. Anthony," a Saturday Evening Post story by Charles Collins. James Cruze is directing.

OBERHOFFER TRIUMPHS IN BRAHMS SYMPHONY.

Penetrating to the inner court of the Brahmsian esthetic labyrinth, Emil Oberhoffer revealed himself as a musical Theseus in his power to cope with the Teutonic monster of musical metaphysics that inhabits the seldom-performed Fourth symphony by the cryptically-compell. g Johannes yesterday afternoon at Trinity Auditorium. His interpretation stands as one of his triumphant achievements, and deserved a far bigger public appreciation than evident in the size of the audience. It is a vigorous and imposing task, the conquering of the minotaur of melody and harmony in the Symphony in E Minor, by Brahms. Yet the control which Mr. Oberhoffer manifested over the sinewy melodies and the thickly-knotted harmonies showed a skill and strength that evoked a picture of easy mastery.

In hearing the Fourth Symphony you are feeling the beauty of Brahms at his finest because this work is characteristic of his aggravating profundity and his violently-contrasted lyrical ecstacy—his two most dominant moods. You may doubt the finished smoothness of the Brahms foundation, whether it will furnish the proper substructure for his towers of spiritual melodic longing—but you cannot question its solidity. And if you can forget the rough stones of the base of the edifice you cannot but be dazzled by the golden cornices, and the upper windows flashing in the setting sun of such autumnal inspiration as his Symphony in E Minor shows.

It was in the flexibility of his interpretation that Mr. Oberhoffer evoked an impression of the deepest beauty. You felt that the equation of time was but the least of your consideration; that the spirit of the composition demanded all your attention. The conductor searched the calm depths of lake-like melody, or he plunged into the storm of impassioned tone. It was a magnificent performance of a work which is assailing in its philosophical introspection.

Oberhoffer also gave a striking rendition of Gliere's symphonic poem, "The Sirens," which is a daring portrayal of the Scylla and Charybdis mood. The closing long-sustained subterranean tones on 'cellos and double-basses seem to growl disaster. Still, the sum total of the effect is almost naive. The fabrication of the work is at times thinly disguised with artificial harmonic flowers. The closing portion was by far the best.

Tschaikowsky's Theme and variations from Suite No. 3 in G Major is, until the finale, Tschaikowsky at his worst. His invention is never superior, and in spots the piece is positively sterile. But the dramatic enthrallment holds the interest at the close. The overture to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn, was the other number on the programme.

For the work of the men naught need be said, but that their playing has the clear-cut emphasis and balance for which Oberhoffer's Orchestra is celebrated.

Morosco.

"Civilian Clothes" is to stay.

Oliver Morosco wired from the East that it was to be taken off next Sunday to make way for "Polly with a Past," which is to be followed by a new production, but there was such a rush to the box office upon the announcement that arrangements were made to continue the Buchanan comedy. No definite time is now set for its removal. And it looks as if Morosco will have to get another theater here if he intends to bring out any more new productions here in the next few weeks.

IBANEZ IS HOMESICK AFTER MISSION PLAY.

FREDERICK WARDE PRAISED BY SPANISH AUTHOR FOR CLEVER WORK.

"The dancing and singing made me homesick for Spain!"

These were the words of Vicente Blasco Ibanez, author of the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," after he witnessed a performance of the "Mission Play" at the Mission Playhouse in San Gabriel yesterday afternoon.

As the guest of John Steven McGroarty, author of the "Mission Play," Ibanez visited San Gabriel yesterday in company with his secretary, Senor Mandrin, and Senor Mayo, a banker from San Antonio, who is traveling with him.

After the performance Senor Ibanez went to Frederick Warde's dressing-room and congratulated him upon his remarkable portrayal of the leading role. While on the stage Spain's great novelist was surrounded by the dancers and singers of the cast, and he held a brief reception there, the conversation being carried on in Spanish.

Before departing last night for San Francisco, where he expects to spend the remainder of the year, Senor Ibanez made the following statement:

"I have never seen anything more impressive than the 'Mission Play,' and I am glad I was able to see it while in California. Mr. Warde's portrayal of the great Franciscan friar, Serra, the founder of civilization in California, was magnificent, and the dancing and singing in the play made me homesick for Spain."

KILLEFER HITS PAW PAW BURG.

Angels' Manager Garnering Talent in Michigan.

Rod to be at Chicago National League Meeting.

Huggins to Improve Ruth's Batting is All Bushwa.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Red Killefer has reached Paw Paw, Mich.

This sensational bit of news was released at Los Angeles baseball headquarters yesterday, and sent a thrill through the local sporting world.

Red tried St. Louis for a few days, but decided that he would prefer Paw Paw to St. Loosy, and purchased a ticket to that place. Paw Paw is the boyhood home of Red, and also is regarded as quite a baseball center for its size, which isn't much. Paw Paw, as near as we can learn, is an island in the heart of Michigan, and Killefer is believed to be the first class AA manager to locate it. It being virgin territory he may discover a large bunch of good ball players who have never been lured to other parts. Baseball athlete trapped in the wild state, and who has never been contaminated by commercialism, is regarded as desirable.

WILL SIGN UP.

It is believed that Paw Paw players will gladly sign any sort of a contract that Killefer pokes at them.

Anyway, the fact that Mr. Killefer is in Paw Paw should cause the fans to take heart. Two or three kings once stood on a raft in the middle of a river and divided the world between them, and the raft wasn't any larger than Paw Paw.

Should Red by any means fail to land the pick of Paw Paw's players he will go direct to Chicago, arriving there on February 10. The National League meeting will open in Chicago on that date, and Red will be there for the fireworks. Those, however, are likely to be disappointing after the brilliant display of pyrotechnics emitted at the American League meeting in New York. The American League directors had star shells, hand grenades, stink bombs and everything.

READY TO GO OFF.

While in Chicago as a bystander just outside the meeting, Killefer will endeavor to put through a number of deals which have been hanging so long that they are about ready to go off. Being a bystander and outside this august gathering, Red will be able to enjoy the echo of the champagne corks as well as spot the magnates between sessions. His friends here hope that one of these corks doesn't shoot through the transom and pass so close to Red's head as to cause him shell shock, thereby incapacitating him for touching off the deals which are hanging fire. Should this happen he might be compelled to return to Paw Paw and recuperate.

Major league meetings are expected to become less and less frequent as the supply of champagne continues to evaporate. This juice, containing the pent-up laughter of the peasant girls of France, heretofore has been the chief aid to deep thought on the part of the magnates.

MAY EXPLAIN.

This may explain why none of us ever heard any of the pleasant girls laugh. Possibly all their mirth had been bottled up and shipped to America. Anyway, champagne, containing large chunks of laughter, always has been one of the leading industries of a major league powwow. The magnates could not powwow satisfactorily until the ceiling had been bombarded with gilded corks. The average master mind seen at these meetings could not get into action until a quart bottle had been touched off under it.

But the vanishing supply is likely to discourage special meetings, and soundings will be taken in the cellar with a log line prior to each annual meeting. Then the deliberations can be made to conform to the size of the supply. Eventually, however, the magnates will be compelled to turn to the demon cider for inspiration. A good bellefower heat would enable them to warm up to their work.

BUSTED A STORY.

Somebody, somewhere, has busted a story to the effect that Miller Huggins is going to regenerate Babe Ruth and make him a polite hitter. That is, he intends to make Babe cut out everything longer than three-baggers, except an accidental home run occasionally which can't be helped.

This rumor must have started in Paw Paw. Huggins may have stopped there on his way East and been interviewed by a Paw Paw reporter who distorted the facts. Paw Paw newspapers, it is said, tend to sensationalism.

Speaking in Los Angeles, Huggins said nothing about revising Mr. Ruth. In fact, one would have inferred from his remarks that he intended to give him carte blanche at the plate, and let Babe crown the pill in any manner which he saw fit.

To make home runs more prevalent in New York influenced Huggins in his decision to play Ruth regularly in the Yankee infield. In this way some of the money paid for the players will be derived from home-run hungry fans.

BACK NEXT DAY.

"If Ruth doesn't make one on Monday, they will be back Tuesday expecting to see him connect," said Huggins.

Anyway, should Ruth in his ambition to lead the league in batting, decide to cut out all except the accidental home runs, it is believed the short right-field fence in New York would be a temptation which would cause him to weaken in this purpose before the middle of July. Then is the one shot that the season will see Babe swinging from the hind quarter in the same old way.

GOLF HONORS GO TO MISS HALORAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—Miss E. Haloran of San Francisco won the mid-week handicap golf tournament held at the Coronado Country Club today with a net score of 82. Mrs. J. Engle of New York was second and Miss Dorean Kavanagh of Coronado third.

Miss Haloran cornered the honors and made the low gross score with an 86. Miss Kavanagh was second with an 88.

THROOP IS CRUSHED BY WHITTIER TEAM.

Whittier crushed the Throop basketball team 39 to 7 at Whittier last night. The Pasadena basket shooters were played off their feet by the fighting Quakers, scoring only 2 points in the first half and five in the second. The score at the end of the first period was 18 to 2, which shows that Whittier played a very even brand of ball throughout.

Jackson for Whittier scored 17 points. The Larson brothers were the only Throop players that could put the ball in the basket. The line-ups follow:

Whittier		Throop
Jackson (17)	Forward	J. Larson (4)
Kimber (10)	Forward
Ward (5)	Center	Mielle
Bloom	Guard	Hoover
Pickett (9)	Guard	L. Larson (3)

CUBS TROUNCE TIGERS.

The University of California Cubs set the Occidental basketball team down another peg last night, when they defeated the cellar champs by a score of 42 to 30.

The count stood 22 to 19 in the Cubs' favor at the end of the first period, but the Tigers wilted in the second half, and the U.C. five caged 21 points while their opponents were making 11.

Gibbs, a Cub forward, led in the point scoring for the winners with 17 markers, closely followed by Woodard, a team-mate, with 16.

Woods, the Occidental center, was high man of the evening. He sent the ball through the iron ring for 18 points. Had any of his team-mates done proportionately as well the Tigers would have fared much better.

The line-ups follow:

S.B.U.C.		Occidental.
Gibbs (17)	Forward	Hadden
Woodard (16)	Forward	Williams (4)
Tipton (2)	Center	Woods (18)
Russell (8)	Guard	Norton (6)

STANFORD BREAKS EVEN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 3.—Stanford broke even in its two-game series with the Washington State College basketball team here last week. The scores of both games were very close, there being only a one-point margin in each game. The Cardinal won the first game by a score of 30 to 29 and lost on the following evening by 24 to 25. The close of the first game was a thrilling one for the spectators, the winning shot for Stanford being in the air when the timer's whistle was blown.

These two games were the first P.C.C. games that the Stanford quintette had mixed in this season and from the showing made in them, Stanford has a fast team that is liable to give the rest of the conference a hard fight. The next two games will be played with the University of California and on February 19, they will meet the University of Oregon quinette on the Stanford court. A trip to the Northwest to meet the U. of O. and the Oregon Aggies will be made later in the season.

CHICAGO DESIRES GAMES.

The University of Chicago desires to schedule baseball games with club or university teams in Southern California during the latter part of March. Announcement of this was made yesterday by Cliff Horne, manager of the basketball team of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Horne had written the Chicago folk to ascertain if they could arrange a game between the Chicago varsity and the L.A.A.C. national basketball champs on the latter's jaunt en route to Atlanta, Ga.

H. O. Page, the Maroon athletic director, wrote back that he would be glad to sandwich a game in on the Chicago calendar if possible, and suggesting a few baseball tilts with the Mercury team here.

It seems that Chicago contemplates a trip to the Orient for its ball tossers and while en route would like to take in Southern California. Page's letter to Horne follows:

"Would your organization care to promote baseball with the University of California the latter part of March?

"There is a possibility of our team going to the Orient and if we can make arrangements in your section for games we would go out over the Santa Fe route, otherwise direct to San Francisco.

"Would you mind advising me of any university teams in your district that might promote two or three games?"

THIEVES GRAB FOUR MACHINES.

Four occupantless machines were appropriated by auto thieves yesterday. Persons seeing any of the below-listed cars are requested to report the matter to the Auto Club theft bureau or to police officials:

Buick, 1917 touring, green body, license 484941; Chevrolet, 1917 touring, black body, license 48597; Ford, 1918 touring, black body, license 262754; Ford, 1918 roadster, black body, license 529348.

MIKE DOLL HAS HARD SLEDDING.

Goes Down Before Speed and Pep of Buck Holly.

Young France Greases Rails for Willie Hunefeld.

Referee Uses Reverse-English on Decision.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Well—Mike Doll, the fistic toast of Vernon, didn't send Buck Holly back on the Lark nor did he even threaten to do so at any stage of the proceedings at Jack Doyle's pavilion last night. Mike met the northerner in the feature event and ran second. Buck simply carried too much cleverness, speed and a few other kinks in the fistic line unknown to Mike. Doll's best round was the third. He showed Buck all he knew about cartwheels, swinging gates and well-intended haymakers that died a-bornin'.

Holly assimilated the onslaught without much trouble and from then on lambasted Michael to a fare ye well. The newcomer opened up a nasty gash on Doll's left glimmer in the third round and the juice running in upon the unoffending optic nerve obscured Mike's vision and spoiled his judgment(?) of distance.

FIERCE DECISION.

The semiwindup was productive of one of those serio decisions that stun the nostrils at times. Young France gave Willie Hunefeld four rounds of about the roughest treatment Willie ever experienced. He smeared Willie good and hard in his tied-up, awkward way and had the gore spilling copiously from Hunefeld's nose all through the last three rounds.

Willie showed a little flash of his real self in the final session, but France won so far off that there was nothing to it. When Referee Harry Lee crossed his arms in token of a draw almost everybody at the arena was stricken with locomotor ataxia and the horrors. Willie never had a look in. He had just simply left himself at home as far as fisticuffs were concerned.

The other winners were Ted Schneider over Bob Grant; Benny McCoy over Danny Edwards; Louie Garcia over Young Papke, and Billy Mack over Johnny Woodruff.

SHAN WAS THERE.

Francis Patrick Shanley fight fan extraordinary and the big chief in the fifty-fifty gospel was back in his old seat near the ringside after hibernating in San Francisco for a few months. He just simply irradiated prosperity. During the festivities he dropped a few choice pearls of wisdom from the "Little Book" to a few boon companions and also declared he was sorry he didn't get back here in time to swell the dyspeptic census here.

POLY IS WINNER.

The Polytechnic High School water polo team defeated the Los Angeles High School team, 6 to 5 in the Y.M.C.A. pool, yesterday afternoon.

Erskine Mayer, pitcher, recently dropped by the White Sox, will train with the Columbus A.A. team in his home town—Atlanta—this spring. That is where he broke into organized baseball.

Babe Ruth is not afflicted with false modesty. He will be seen in a Boston show window soon to attract attention to the make of cigars that bears his name as a brand.

AIRDROME NAMED FOR WAR VETERAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—Word was received here today that the city of Tucson, Ariz., had named the new municipal airdrome there Macauley Field in honor of Theodore C. Macauley, former major in the air service, and now living in Coronado, a suburb of this city. It is said that he is the only living American aviator thus to be honored. The War Department's practice of several years' standing is to name fields after officers killed in service or in training work.

SENTIMENT AGAINST TENNIS RULE CHANGE.

ENGLISH ASSOCIATION ASKS AMERICAN BODY TO POSTPONE ACTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Sentiment of tennis players abroad opposes proposed changes in rules which will be acted upon at the meeting of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association Friday, according to a letter received today from the English Lawn Tennis Association. The English association suggests that action on the proposed changes be postponed until the national association has decided whether to join the international federation.

Possibility of the American organization entering the international federation is slight, S. Wallis Merribew, chairman of the Rules Committee, declared tonight and "therefore," he added, "it seems a waste of time to delay action on that account."

HARVARD PLAYERS PUT FOOTBALL AWAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—Football at Harvard was officially put away until next fall tonight, when the Harvard Club gave a dinner in honor of the 1919 eleven. Gold footballs were presented to the players and the members of the coaching and training staffs.

Frederick Roy Martin of New York, assistant general manager of the Associated Press, was toastmaster. He read congratulatory telegrams from President Campbell of the University of Oregon, the Harvard Club of Southern California, Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, Charlie Chaplin and the management of the Oregon eleven.

RANFT AND PAGLIANO VICTORS IN HANDBALL.

Ranft and Pagliano triumphed over Bean and Giffen by a point total of 45 to 39 at the L.A.A.C. yesterday. Play was in the Ruggles round robin handball tourney.

The first game went to Ranft and Pagliano, 21-13, but Bean and Giffen came back in the second and turned the tables. Score was 21-16 in the latter's favor.

The only other match played in the tourney yesterday resulted in favor of Retzer and Golding. They took Elkeles and Alauzet down the line to the accompaniment of a 52-32 score.

DOUBLE-HEADER AT BASKETBALL.

National Champs to Play Picked Team at L.A.A.C.

Mercurys are to Hook up with U.S.C. Trojans.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Basketball followers will be treated to a double-header at the L.A.A.C. the coming Saturday night. Manager Cliff Horne of the club yesterday announced that he had scheduled games for both the Blue and Mercury fives. Incidentally there is to be a dance following the last game, and the public is invited—all for the insignificant sum of 50 cents.

PLAY PICKED TEAM.

The Blue quintette, which defeated the San Diego Y.M.C.A. overwhelmingly last Saturday evening, will tackle a picked team from Long Beach, while the Mercurys will hook up with U.S.C. Trojans.

A large turnout is expected for the two games. The national champs will be seen in but few games before they leave on their trip to Atlanta, Ga., and Saturday's pastime will provide one of those occasions.

WAKING UP TO IT.

Basketball has been slow to take in Southern California, but judging by the turnouts at the Oxy-U.S.C. and the San Diego-L.A.A.C. contests last week sport lovers are waking to the thrills occasioned by a hard-fought court game.

Horne has practically completed his schedule for the eastern jaunt of the title holders. They will open with the St. Ignatius College team February 25, and tackle the Athens Athletic Club in Oakland the following evening. A train ride will take clubbers to Reno for a joust with the University of Nevada on the 28th.

TILTS TO COME.

Either the University of Utah or Brigham Young University will be faced in Salt Lake on the first of March, and then will come tilts with Creighton University in Omaha and the University of Kansas in Kansas City.

Horne has a fistful of invitations from small Kansas cities for games in their burgs. Such places as Newton, Nickerson and Glaco—towns of barely 1000 population—have offered as high a guarantee as Chicago organizations.

The club manager had contemplated taking the L.A.A.C.'ers to Chicago, but as the Windy City is not in the clubbers' route as the crow flies they will pass up all tentative engagements in the Sucker State.

TACKLE MACON.

Birmingham Athletic Club and the Y.M.C.A. of Macon will furnish the last conflicts for the Los Angeles men before they hit Atlanta on the 6th of March.

They will rest up for a couple of days in the Georgia basketball capital before starting play in the national tourney, which is scheduled to open on the 10th. Needless to say the L.A.A.C. representatives are confident of retaining the title won last year.

DRYDEN BOOSTS ANNUAL RELAYS

Occidental Manager Promises Big Success.

Over Hundred Entries Expected for A.A.U. Event.

Schiller and Kilby Should Provide Thrills.

The annual A.A.U. relay carnival, to be staged on the Occidental track on February 21, promises to be a huge success, according to Harold Dryden, Tiger athletic manager.

Dryden has been busy the past week mailing entry blanks to the various high schools and colleges in Southern California, and reports a most favorable response.

Pomona College will have twenty blue-and-white-clad athletes on hand, as will U.S.C., and Occidental and Redlands will have delegations of fifteen and twelve, respectively.

LOTS OF PREPS.

San Diego High School has promised to dispatch a team of twelve men to the meet, Santa Ana an equal number, and Redlands High will send ten. The city high schools will all enter good-sized squads.

Altogether Dryden estimates that there will be in the neighborhood of 150 track and field athletes entered.

The piece de resistance of the afternoon's festivities will no doubt be the one-mile relay race for college four-man teams. This will bring together the U.S.C. and Redlands baton passers with Gene Schiller and Colon Kilby running the last lap for their respective colleges.

SPEED BOYS.

Kilby has a mark of 49⅘s. to his credit, established at the A.A.U. meet in 1918.

Schiller was clocked in 49⅘s. in the State high school meet in Sacramento two years ago. At that time he was all dolled up in the blue and gold colors of Polytechnic High School.

Both the Redlands and U.S.C. men are Olympic games possibilities. If either runs up to the form displayed in 1918 he is a cinch for the taxless trip to Belgium.

Kilby is the better runner as far as form and natural ability are concerned. He strides around the track much like Karl Goeppert of last year's California team, who was a symphony in action.

Schiller, on the other hand, has a fighting heart and the will to win. Had he Kilby's consummate ease of action he would be a wonder.

If these two get anywhere on an even start on the last lap of their relay the event should be worth going many miles to see.

DEMPSEY'S HONORARY HONORS IRREGULAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 3. — Honorary membership in the American Legion is forbidden by the Constitution, declared national officers of the organization today, following receipt of letters of protest against granting by a Milwaukee post of such a membership to Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion boxer.

TEVIS STARS IN POLO TILT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DEL MONTE, Feb. 3.—The Reds defeated the Whites in an exciting finish to the special handicap match for the Leadbetter cup in a polo tournament here today. Willie Tevis shot the winning goal just before the final bell, making the score 8 1-2 to 7 1-2. The Whites started with a five-goal handicap and led almost to the end, the Reds evening the score through a foul a few seconds previous to Tevis's winning shot.

Local horsemen will ride in a paper chase at Pebble Beach tomorrow. The next polo match will be Thursday. The summary of today's game follows:

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

The Redlands team averages 135 to the man. HIPPODROME SHOW DEAL STILL PENDING.

The deal between the Olympic Games Committee of the South and Count William Jarvis, whereby the latter will put on a mammoth hippodrome production to raise funds with which to send athletes to Antwerp, is still pending.

The committee met with Jarvis and his secretary yesterday at noon, and submitted him a proposition to stage a show at the Auditorium Theater during the week of April 17.

Jarvis took the matter under advisement, and will report his decision to the committee today.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Our Industrial Future is Linked with the Development of Power.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Southern California is passing through a great era of development in spite of the handicap of high material and commodity costs.

Practically every line of business is taking part in this expanding process, but back of it all there must, as, of course, be provided the sinews of war—money. This is coming from the banks, and from investors generally. No local issue of merit, has failed in its financing.

Back of much of this development is the question of power. Cheap power is what is destined to make Southern California a great producing center. Concentrated energy distributed in kilowats is the secret. Consequently it is natural to turn to the possibilities of realising upon the vast natural unharnessed hydro-electric resources which abound in California. In most of our agricultural communities development is limited by the available amount of cheap power. Cheap power cannot be developed unless the men who invest their money are assured of a reasonable return upon their investment.

HEAVY TRACTION LOSSES.

During the past ten years, owners of traction and railroad securities have taken heavy losses. Among other reasons, the following are important:

(1.) The costs of labor and materials have increased more rapidly than at any time in recent history.

(2.) Owing to a lack of education on the part of the traveling public and shippers of freight, regarding their own interest, they fought every increase in rates without realizing that the decreased earnings would drive capital out of these industrials and prevent the roads from giving efficient service.

(3.) The income tax made it impossible for wealthy holders of rails to keep their bonds when the gross yield was only 4 to 5 per cent. and the net yield in many cases less than 3 per cent. They therefore sold their rails and reinvested in municipals, which were tax exempt.

The only other markets for these securities were the insurance companies and banks. Unfortunately, these institutions had to place their funds at the disposal of the government and a decline in the bonds was inevitable. This was further increased by the liquidation of foreign bonds in the United States—first, to pay for commodities which they had to have, and recently, to take advantage of the exchange rate.

In order to show how dearly the public paid for their short-sightedness in refusing the railroads relief, it is only necessary to call attention to the coal industry. During the past few years the demand for coal has been greater than at any time in the history of the United States. It was impossible, however, to operate the mines continually because the railroads had neither cars nor locomotives with which to transport this coal from the mines to the market. Farmers had difficulty in moving their grain, merchants in getting stock and even passengers are greatly inconvenienced because of the inefficient service which the railroads must render because of their lack of equipment.

The gas and electric companies have suffered in the East more than they have in the West, owing to the fact that the companies have been established longer, the communities are more stationary and the general public is antagonistic to them because of previous political activity, and in some cases, lack of consideration of their consumers. Accordingly the unpopularity of eastern public utilities has been reflected in the demand for public utility bonds by the investors in the East. Prior to 1912, the bonds of our high-grade public utilities were sold largely in the East.

HOME FINANCING.

This was true in the case of the bonds of the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company, Southern California Edison Company, San Joaquin Light and Power Company, Mt. Whitney Power and Electric Company, Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Great Western Power Company. As long as these bonds were to be sold in the East, it did not matter whether they were qualified as being legal for California savings banks. Furthermore, at that time they were selling at higher prices than many of our local land bonds, and the savings banks here preferred to invest their funds where they could obtain higher rates.

This condition has changed and in the future it is going to be necessary for the West to finance more of its own industries. If we are to do this, we must widen the market for our securities. This can be done by qualifying the bonds as legal investments for savings banks, and by an educational campaign which will enable people to realize the true worth of our securities, and the companies themselves are realizing the necessity for an educational campaign along these lines.

The savings banks of California are vitally interested in the development of the districts in which they operate and it is the opinion of well-informed bond men that a California hydro-electric security ranks next to government and municipal bonds in point of investment merit, and they view with satisfaction the present tendency to make these bonds legal for savings bank investment, a tendency which is backed by the record of price range and increasing equity which, during the past few years has placed them among our highest-grade securities.

Wildcatting for Oil.

No form of speculative activity now before the investing public is so popular as oil. There is something so appealing in the possibilities to tapping a pool of "black gold," that newly-organized corporations are having little trouble in disposing of their stock. While some of the advertising matter of a few of these newcomers is flambouyant there is little that is actually misleading if the reader takes the pains to analyize the text and differentiate between the ifs and the sures, but those who put their money on the double O should do so in full understanding of the fact that they are merely taking a gambling chance. We are soon to see a considerable enlargement of this type of activity for the acute need of additional sources of supply will encourage wildcat operations to a degree never before experienced. The big companies in possession of large production and ample funds have entered this field, already with some astonishing results. Many of the smaller companies are on a leasing basis. A good many fortunes are destined to be made in 1920 and a good many will be lost. It's an expensive game, which pays big if you win, but if you do go in, go in with your eyes open, and prepared to pocket your loss without complaining that you have been swindled. The out and out swindlers are scarce, and they don't last long.

The Stock Market.

LATEST NEWS OF FOOD PRICES.

A statement recently issued by W. A. Starr, vice-president of the United States Grain Corporation, attributes the fact that the price of bread has not followed the rising cost of flour to the cheaper flour now being marketed by the United State Grain Corporation and which is coming into more general use. The statement is in part as follows:

"The demand for this flour is increasing daily. Housewives have found the quality satisfactory for all purposes in their baking, and many bakers find that they can use government flour in their blends, thereby holding down the cost of bread production and preventing any increase in price. In fact, the demand for this flour has exceeded all expectations, and more than 300,000 barrels were sold by the Grain Corporation in the United States during the first month of the flour resale plan. Patent brands of flour have continued to advance in most markets, but the government flour remains at the same price."

Although millers have advanced the price of flour 40 cents per barrel since January 10, no change will be made in the price to the consumer of the U. S. Grain Corporation flour during the month of February. This means that while patent hard wheat flour is retailing at about $14.50 per barrel, the government flour will retail at $12.25 per barrel.

The egg market shifted about somewhat yesterday, fresh extras declining 1 cent per dozen, but case counts advanced 1 cent and pullets 3 cents.

TREND DOWNWARD ON PRODUCE MARKET.

POTATOES SELLING AS LOW AS $5 PER HUNDRED; CABBAGE HIGHER.

Prices weakened for most varieties of fruit and vegetables during yesterday's session on the local produce market. During the early hours of the session farmers were slow to dispose of their offerings at yesterday's high level, but demand fell off very sharply toward the close and prices declined all along the line. Country receipts were moderate in quantity and of fairly good quality, while the cadot arrivals were light. The features of the day's session was the weakness of the potato market, both in carlots and in prices to retailers. Practically no sales were made. The range of prices to retailers remained unchanged but going wholesalers were offering fancy Burbank burbanks as low as $5 per hundred, a decline of 5 cents per hundred pounds were stated at $5.25 per hundred weight. Under the present slow demand, jobbers and wholesalers predict lower prices for potatoes, but assert that when the demand revives, prices will react sharply. With carlot arrivals from the north and from Idaho averaging about 10 cars per day, a higher market must come, it is stated, and potatoes may again move to the $6 per hundred level.

Practically the only commodities to show any strength during yesterday's session were beets and cabbage. Beets are growing very scarce, and under the limited supplies, prices are advancing, the increase yesterday amounting to 10 cents per dozen bunches. Although the shipping market was weaker for cabbage, wholesalers prices made no advance amounting to 25 cents per crate.

Cauliflower was also scarce under liberal supplies. Local stock was 15 cents per dozen bunches compared with field crates showing a fall of 25 cents each. Wholesalers are anticipating a higher market for cauliflower in the near future, owing to the fact that the peak of the season is past, and supplies are diminishing. Lettuce was very dull and weak. Fancy shipping stock changed 15 cents per crate, with practically no buying demand at the lower level. The shipping demand was centered on the Imperial Valley products to which the daily movement toward eastern markets is heavy, with the result that the local product has become a drug on the market. Mexican tomatoes declined sharply from $6.75 and $7 per crate reached crates to $5.50 per crate. The weakness in this commodity was due to the heavy arrivals, which exceed the current demand. Fancy turnips were steady as Monday's level but the poorer grades were offered yesterday as low as $1.25 per sack.

COTTON MARKET FEELS WEAKNESS OF EXCHANGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A new low record for sterling exchange, coupled with active selling by spot houses and Liverpool interests, caused a drop of 9 to 12 points at the opening of the cotton market today. There was subsequent pressure from room sources that carried May off to 32.88, or 26 points under last night's close. Sentiment around the ring was very bearish as a result of the exchange situation and absence of outside support.

New crop months were relatively steady on reports of heavy rains in the eastern belt and complaints of delayed farm work. Slight rallies in the old crop positions met increased offerings, however, and the decline extended to 33.71 for March and 31.60 for July, or 33 to 44 points net lower, before the end of the morning, while October showed a net decline of 27 points. Trading was not active and there was enough covering to cause rallies of 4 or 5 points more around midday.

The continued weakness of foreign exchange had an unsettling effect on the afternoon market, with March selling at 33.03 and July at 31.25 under renewed liquidation.

INVESTORS' OPPORTUNITY

Roger W. Babson, an eminent financial writer, says:

"The highest commodity prices in fifty years and a skeptical credit situation have combined to place investment securities on the lowest levels since 1878. This has brought about the most wonderful opportunity for the investor of average means that has ever been seen. We sincerely hope that all of our clients will take advantage of it."

We indorse Mr. Babson's recommendation and offer for your investment the following list of securities:

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The more alarming crash in foreign exchange today overshadowed all other considerations and developments in the stock market. Substantial shares were impaired by 2 to 5 points and many of the more speculative issues suffered greater depreciation.

The further collapse of international credits not only carried remittances on London and leading European capitals to new points of discount, but was so sweeping as to embrace the British provinces. In Montreal, for example, exchange on New York was at a premium of 13⅛ per cent.

During the more feverish period of the decline in exchange it was reported that dealers would only accept bills for collection. In effect, they declined to buy outright, because of the market's extremely erratic course.

Following its course of the previous day, the market was weakest and most active in the final hour, when exchange on London, Paris and Rome was at lowest quotations. The high-class steels, motors and equipments continued to yield, closing prices almost without exception being at or within easy range of minimum levels.

Oils and shipping also gave way to more extensive offerings and numerous miscellaneous specialties participated in the decline, but rails of the better grade finished at relatively nominal losses. Sales amounted to 1,000,000 shares.

Two of the Liberty Bond issues—the second 4s and second 4 1-4s—established new low records during the session. Other Liberties and the Victory notes were variably lower with internationals, including Paris 6s. The general bond market was weak. Sales (par value) were $18,350,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper unchanged. Sterling, demand $3.34½; cables, $3.35 1-4. Time loans, strong; all dates, 8.

Call money, easy; high, 14; low, 14; ruling rate, 14; closing bid, 13; offered at 14; last loan, 14.

Bar silver, $1.33 1-4. Mexican dollars, $1.02 1-4.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Bar silver, 36d per ounce; money unchanged.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW

Victories were an eighth lower than the Monday close selling down to $97.62 1-2. Fourth Liberty 4 1-4's were quoted at $90.12 1-2, the lowest price registered for any of the war issues. National Pacific continued to be a big trader but the range was not great, the impending passage of the oil land leasing bill having been effectually discounted, 12 3-4 to 13 cents was the prevailing price. A block of thirteen shares of Guaranty Trust and Savings sold for $287.50. Oils were weaker than usual, although Republic Petroleum maintained its Monday level of 38 3-4 cents. Union sold down to $181.50; Associated was at $118.75; General Petroleum closed at $150 bid, although sales were recorded during the day as high as $154. Mascot declined from $2.40 to $2.35 and Midway Northern from 60 to 55 cents. Mines were weak. United Eastern selling down to $3.85 and closing at $3.85 bid. Tom Reed registered $1.69 at the close. The local industrials stood the burden and heat of the day in good shape and while trading was not very active the price level was well maintained. Goodyear was an eighth above par, and Pacific Cotton, $99. Citizens' National changed hands at $310, and Southern California Edison at $87.25. On the whole the market was spotty, lacked virility and was hard to either analyze or forecast. Sales of Interstate oil stock were again reported yesterday afternoon, 800 shares changing hands at $4.75. The company's well on its Newport (Orange County, California) lease has had its 8 1-4-inch casing cemented four different times and each time the cement job has been unsuccessful. The management of the company then decided to cement the 6 1-4-inch casing below the 8 1-4-inch casing and on February 2, this cement job was drilled out and the water broke into the well again. Additional water troubles are being experienced on what is known as the Murphy lease in the Midway fields. So far the efforts to overcome the water flow have been comparatively unsuccessful.

Business on 'Change.

A recapitulation of the business on the stock exchange for January reveals a total of 1,775,451 shares and a value of $2,788,712.24. This is below the average necessary to equal last lear's record, but January is recognized as one of the quiet trading months made particularly so this year by unsettled conditions of exchange and money. The greatest activity was in oil stocks which moved to the value of $1,359,447,-32 for 930,460 shares. Bonds to the value of $880,973.39 were transferred; industrial stocks to the value of $369,884.46; mining stocks to the value of $139,122.56 and bank stock to the value of $49,324. The biggest trader in point of value was Associated Oil, transactions in this listing totaling $408,664.75. Shoup for Direct Action.

Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric, and vice-president of the Southern Pacific has told a New York newspaper that he favors a return to the pre-war method of direct dealing between employer and employee in railroad labor disputes. When their failure threatens general welfare, the former Los Angeles railroader is quoted as saying, a board could be appointed equally representing the public, the roads and the employees, with power to enforce its decision for one year.

Goodyear Extensions.

The Long Island plant of Henry Ford, which was used by the government during the war for the manufacture of gas masks, has been sold to the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company for a price reported to be more than $2,000,000.

Legal for Savings Banks.

The recent issue of San Francisco-Sacramento 6 per cent. bonds, which was underwritten by Blyth-Witter & Co., E. H. Rollins and Sons, and Harris Trust and Savings Bank, has been made legal for California savings banks, according to announcement made yesterday. These bonds, which constitute a first mortgage on the properties of the railroad, mature serially from 1921 to 1940, selling at prices to yield from 6 1-4 to 6 3-4 per cent., according to the maturity.

Bank Extension.

The Commercial Bank of Spanish America, Ltd., affiliated to the Anglo-South American Bank, Ltd., of London, and with a branch in San Francisco, announces that it has been decided to open a branch in Barranquilla, Republic of Colombia, under the management of Mr. Gordon Rayner.

New Clearing Record.

Through an investment in Great Western Power Company of California 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock, the stockholder becomes a part owner in a corporation producing electricity at a smaller cost than any other similar company operating within the State.

It is a matter of record that the Great Western Power Company is conservatively financed and well-managed. The fact of its cheap generating costs spells safety to the preferred stockholder.

We offer this stock for investment at $100 per share plus accrued dividends to yield 7%.

NOTICE OF DIVIDEND

Dividend checks for the month of January on Triangle Royalty are being mailed by the Guarantee Title and Trust Company, trustee, from Wichita, Kansas, this week. Some 250 checks will be received by our Southern California clients within the next few days.

Dividends on this Royalty are paid every month, the total thus distributed during the past eighteen months having amounted to 132 1-3% on the par value of the entire syndicate.

The above results have been obtained from only four wells out of a possible twenty-five, and as the unit-owners participate to the extent of one-eighth in the entire production on the Tract, this investment carries a highly desirable speculative value.

The fifth well on this lease was reported "on the sand" on February 3rd, and if this proves to be the average only of the other wells on the Tract, the dividends will be materially increased, with a corresponding higher market value of the units.

Full particulars of this security, including positive proof of the dividend record above referred to, will be cheerfully furnished prospective investors upon request.

AGGRESSIVE SELLING BY SHORTS CREATES WEAKNESS; CLOSE IS NEAR BOTTOM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Aggressive selling by shorts and liquidation by longs with poor support from buyers, other than to take profits on holdings of corn, created weakness and lower prices with the close around the bottom.

A continued decline in sterling exchange and a report that the Grain Corporation was to take 100 per cent. of the cars here available for loading wheat were the main depressing factors. Weakness in stocks and cotton helped to shake confidence of holders and check new buying. Net declines were 1¾@2 on corn with May leading, while January and March lost 1¾. Oats were off 1@1¼. Rye was especially weak and lost 4 1-4 with wheat in the southwest assisting in making the break. Barley lost 4.

Demoralization in sterling exchange and in the stock market, combined with weakness in oats and rye, finally affected the corn market after it had shown great resistance to selling pressure early. Local sentiment was extremely bearish on account of the general weakening in the financial and economic situation. Commission houses were buyers on resting orders, but toward the last there was rather general selling and prices dropped rapidly, closing trade blow at the bottom, the inside figures showing 1 1-4@1 3-4 under the top.

February showed comparative steadiness, but May and July broke 2@2½. An improvement in the domestic demand for cash corn had some effect on corn, shippers taking the grain freely. The cash situation showed no improvement, local arrivals being 187 cars with sample values unchanged to 1 higher.

May oats dropped sharply, closing at the bottom. The outward strength in the cash grain on the basis of 11@11 3-4 over May, track New York, against 12 the previous day, and part of the selling by cash houses was regarded as against grain that had been bought back. The slow to sterling was the main cause of the anxiety to get rid of the grain.

Miller & Lux Lands

A Magnet That Draws

Day by day and week by week the sensational interest in the first allotment of Miller & Lux land increases and spreads throughout the West.

No announcement regarding land made in recent years has aroused such intense and widespread interest among those who know California lands and realize what our announcement of the placing on sale of the first 30,000 acres means.

The world's pantry shelves are short of foodstuffs. Prices are still rising. To those who put themselves on the side of PRODUCTION now, the road to wealth is open.

These rich and fertile acres, in the heart of California, surrounding the town of Madera—acres chosen by Henry Miller when California was young—offer you today an opportunity that in all probability will not come again in a lifetime.

These lands are being placed on sale by order of the Miller & Lux Corporation at practically wholesale prices—far lower than lands not so good elsewhere.

Figs, almonds, walnuts, Thompson Seedless and Muscat grapes are all crops to which the Miller & Lux lands are particularly adapted.

Now is the time to buy while there is still a wide selection. If you have not already done so, we advise you to get in touch with this office by wire, letter or personal call at once.

Do not delay.

STOPS PARKING AFTER APRIL 10.

Compromise Law Unanimously Passed by Council.

Separate Ordinance to Deal with Business Area.

Eliminate Regulations that Hit Pedestrians.

The revised no-parking ordinance yesterday became a reality, and will go into effect April 10. The ordinance was adopted by unanimous vote of the City Council.

As finally presented, it eliminated the clauses for the regulation of pedestrian traffic, and if these provisions are considered necessary later on they will be incorporated in another law.

A separate ordinance, to be presented this morning, will provide for the establishment of what is termed the business district, surrounding the section designated as the congested district, and in which parking of vehicles will be permitted for two hours.

The new ordinance establishes a zone in which no parking will be allowed between 11 a.m. and 6:15 p.m., but gives two minutes for the loading and unloading of passengers at any point in that section. Within this district commercial vehicles have a maximum of fifteen minutes for loading or unloading between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Between 4 and 6:15 o'clock no commercial vehicles will be permitted to load or unload within the congested district.

NO-PARKING AREA.

The no-parking area is:

Main, Spring, Broadway and Hill, from First to Ninth on each.

Olive, from Fifth to Eighth.

Grand avenue, from Sixth to Eighth.

East side of Hope, from Sixth to Eighth.

First and second, from Los Angeles to Olive.

Third, from Los Angeles to Figueroa, through the tunnel.

Fourth and Fifth, from Los Angeles to Olive.

Sixth, Seventh and Eighth, from Los Angeles to Figueroa.

North side of Ninth, from Main to Olive.

The left-hand turn is prohibited during the no-parking hours on Main, Spring, Broadway and Hill streets, at Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets.

Commercial deliveries must be made from alleys whenever conditions permit, and no further permits for taxicab stands in the congested district will be authorized. Outstanding permits of this character will all expire before the date when the no-parking ordinance becomes effective.

BUSINESS DISTRICT.

In the ordinance which will be presented to the Council this morning it is proposed that what is termed the business district shall be bounded by Sunset boulevard on the north, San Pedro street and Central avenue on the east, Pico street on the south, and Georgia, Bixel and Boylston streets on the west. In this district parking will be permitted for two hours.

At yesterday's Council session Herbert J. Goudge and W. M. Burke appeared to oppose the proposed legislation controlling pedestrians, but this clause had already been eliminated. They argued that any legislation on this line would be obnoxious to pedestrians and cause great trouble and confusion in its enforcement.

After the discussions, the Council asked Chief Engineer H. Z. Osborne Jr., of the Board of Public Utilities, to furnish it with a list of such cities of the United States as have laws in force regulating the movement of pedestrians in congested districts, and a summary of such legislation.

TELLS COURT OF BAD LUCK.

A hard luck story was told to Judge Taft by Charles J. Dawson, former motion-picture employee, in alimony proceedings yesterday. He said he was laid off from film work, lost his automobile because he could not continue the payments upon it, then was struck and injured by a trolley car. His prospects for paying alimony to his wife depend on his claim against the railway company, he said. The court continued the case for a month.

tractive Mrs. Warren and young Hamilton in Paris, their romance was continued in this country. When the parents of Hamilton learned of the intended wedding, agents of the Hamilton family appeared at the Ritz-Carlton to inquire of the romance, and the gossip thereafter spread throughout the country. The boy's father and other relatives sought to dissuade Hamilton from his plan, telling him that he was only a boy infatuated with a beautiful woman many years his senior. The family succeeded in postponing the ceremony, but last Monday the pair eloped to Portsmouth.

"I realized my parents were opposed to our marriage," young Hamilton told interviewers yesterday in Boston, "giving my age as an excuse. I have had considerable experience with the world and my military training was an excellent education. All the officers I have served with have given me great praise, so I must have some judgment. If a man does not choose his own wife, what is the use of getting married? I feel that my parents will be reconciled to my choice when they know more of my wife. Of course, one feels the coldness of parents, and especially of a mother. I believe, though, this will pass away."

PROFITEER TRIAL BEGINS.

Four Sugar Dealers Face Jury in Initial Prosecution Here Under Lever Act.

Four defendants faced a jury in U. S. District Judge Bledsoe's court, yesterday, in the initial prosecution here under the Lever act forbidding profiteering.

The defendants are Joseph Goldberg and Edward L. Lipschutz, brokers; and Abe Blumenthal and F. S. Chandler, proprietors of confectionery establishments in this city. The indictment they face contain four counts.

The general charge of conspiracy is made, and the further accusation that on or about October 30, 1919, the defendants purchased of the Anaheim Sugar Company 20,000 pounds of beet sugar at 11 cents a pound, which they afterward sold to different individuals at prices ranging from 18 to 20 cents a pound, when a fair profit would have been an advance of 1½ cents a pound. It is further asserted that on October 31, 1919, they sold to the Boos Bros.' Cafeteria, 10,000 pounds for which they received 20 cents a pound; that on November 1, 1919, they sold a large quantity to the Elite Caterers at 18 cents a pound, and on November 5, 1919, sold the balance of their holdings to Mayer Lowes at the rate of 20 cents a pound.

NO OBJECTIONS.

In the selection of the jury, the government, represented by Asst. U. S. Atty. Palmer, interposed not a single objection to one of the panel, but the defense, represented by Paul W. Schenck, A. L. McCormick, Charles W. Lyon, and Duke Stone, was very careful in passing the members. They wanted to know if the jurors knew what a fair price for sugar was at the time of the asserted sales, and whether or not, in the opinion of the jurors, it was not possible to get the price stated in the bill and still be selling the sugar at a fair price, depending on circumstances. Jurors were questioned as to their opinion of the Lever law, and whether or not, in their opinion, it ought to be enforced. It was evident from the trend of the examination by attorneys for the defense, that the fight was to be made on technical points, with the word "exacted" in the law as the crux of the situation, the presumption being that if the price asked was willingly paid there was no "exaction."

President A. E. Peck, of the Anaheim Sugar Company, testified as to the sale of 30,000 pounds of beet sugar to Joe Goldberg, in October, last, at 11 cents a pound. The witness stated that Goldberg stated he wanted it for the Pin Ton establishment, which was short of sugar. Mr. Peck stated that his company did not fix the price of sugar, which was fixed by the inexorable rule of supply and demand. He stated that he had sold the sugar to Goldberg, for one reason at least, that Goldberg had done him several favors, and he wanted to return them. He admitted that he had not told his broker about the sale when it was made.

"Did you know that Goldberg got $650 out of the deal," sharply inquired Mr. Palmer.

The witness said he did not.

"Six hundred and fifty dollars for a favor," shot back the Assistant U. S. Attorney.

CHECK IN EVIDENCE.

Ernest J. Kappler, of the Elite Caterers, testified to buying seventy-one bags of sugar of the defendant, Lipschutz, for which he paid 18 cents a pound. The check for the purchase was placed in evidence.

Horace Boos, of the Bros Bros.' Cafeteria, testified to giving a check to F. S. Chandler, October 31, 1919, for $2000, in payment for 10,000 pounds of sugar at 20 cents a pound.

P. R. Conrade, manager of the Hill-street branch of Boos Bros.' testified to the purchase outright of the sugar by the firm of Chandler. He stated that Chandler would not tell him where he got the sugar.

Chandler at the time of his arrest is stated to have said that he had merely loaned the sugar to Boos Bros.' at the rate of 20 cents a pound, the understanding being that when a shipment of the firm arrived, it would be returned in like amount and price. He denied that an actual sale had been made, except as stated.

Mayer Lowes, of a Hill-street candy establishment, stated he bought $1000 worth of sugar of Chandler at 20 cents a pound, which was delivered from Chandler's place of business, 2821 South Vermont avenue, the same place from which the Boos Bros.' sugar was taken.

It is understood that the case will be completed today, the government having but one more witness. It is stated also that the defendants will all go on the stand.
